BOARD RAPs GRAND JURY OIL PROBE

PATROLMEN'S NAMES WILL BE TOLD

Smith and Layton Again
Clash Over Traffic
Safety Program

It appeared today that the squad of 50 "secret police" proposed for Santa Ana in a new traffic safety drive may not be so secret after all.

But Councilman Joseph P. Smith thinks they are "secret police," and he protested adoption of a new city ordinance creating a traffic safety commission and providing for the special traffic patrolmen at council meeting last night.

Smith vs. Layton
"Where," demanded Councilman Smith, "does such a plan operate outside of Russia?"

Councilman Ernest Layton, "father" of the new traffic safety plan, and Smith again quarreled openly over the project last night. Layton offered the new city ordinance for the second and final reading. Smith swiftly offered an amendment to the motion, which would have stricken out two sections and other portions of the ordinance which refer to the traffic "patrolmen." He said this still would leave the creation of the safety council in the ordinance.

Smith's amendment was lost for want of a second, as he later announced that he knew would be the case. The other councilmen present voted "aye" on the ordinance, including Plummer Bruns, Layton and William Penn. Smith voted "no."

Rowland Absent
But Smith's "no" vote had the effect of holding up the time the ordinance becomes effective for 30 days. Mayor Fred Rowland, who is ill, was not at the meeting. It is necessary for four of the five councilmen to cast favorable votes on an ordinance before it can be legally passed as an emergency ordinance. A clause in the ordinance, which terms the law an emergency, thereby became ineffective when but three of four councilmen voted favorably on it.

Layton opened discussion on the (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

SAYS SECURITY ACT TO FALL

Unless the present supreme court has a change of heart, both the Wagner labor act and the social security act will be invalidated, it was predicted last night by Dr. Hubert Phillips of Fresno state college, in a federal forum address at the high school. Another decision on the TVA, probably will make unconstitutional TVA, Bonneville and the Grand Coulee projects, he predicted.

Dr. Phillips said three members of the present court are liberals, four "hide-bound conservatives" and two occupy middle ground, leaning to the right. The court has shown a lag of 20 to 30 years behind the times, said the speaker, and this cripples immediate legislation to cope with emergencies.

In discussing possible solutions of the question, Dr. Phillips said a constitutional amendment would be too slow to allow relief of the present situation and that this accounts for the increase in size suggested by President Roosevelt.

She Healed 'Tough Ones'

By FRANK ORR

A typical Saturday night in the rip-roaring frontier town of Little Lake, California—some years before the turn of the century.

A pool room brawl, men, knives. Two of them badly injured.

Only one doctor in town—a woman. The next day she was to have a baby.

So Dr. Loretta Mann Hammond, only doctor in Mendocino county, went down to the pool room and sewed up the wounds. The next day a daughter was born to her.

Tomorrow the daughter, Mrs. Pansy Clark of Los Angeles, her only survivor, will attend private funeral services for her mother, courageous pioneer, writer, typewriter and student. Dr. Hammond, 94 years old, died Saturday.

"It was a pretty tough town,"

Off to Prison

After confessing she wrote kidnapping threats against Mary McElroy, daughter of the city manager of Kansas City, Joyce McGee, above, was sentenced to prison last week for attempted extortion. Miss McElroy was kidnapped in 1933 and ransomed for $30,000. (Associated Press photo.)

TUCKER WILL LEAD CHEST

Organization Changes
By-laws at Annual Meeting Here

From now on anyone who donates a dollar to the Community Chest will be a member in good standing.

Changes in the by-laws, effected through adoption of a new set of by-laws, and election of officers and a new board of directors featured the annual meeting of the Santa Ana Community Chest late yesterday. J. T. Tucker was named president.

Eligibility Rule
The new by-laws provide that anyone who donates a dollar will be eligible for membership in the chest. Previously only chest directors and directors of member organizations have been eligible for officers.

Financial reports submitted by Lorraine McMillan, secretary, showed that during the last campaign, $32,382, representing 90 per cent of the goal, was raised.

E. M. Sundquist, retiring president, presided at the annual session, held in the council chambers in the city hall yesterday afternoon.

New Officers
Officers elected were: J. B. Tucker, president; Miss Mabel McFadden, vice president; C. L. Pritchard, treasurer. These officers, with the following, are members of the executive committee: Fred C. Rowland, Rex Kennedy, Gilbert Campbell, W. K. Hillyard, Sam Hurwitz, Fred Merker, E. M. Sundquist and D. G. Tibball.

Other members of the board are Mrs. Paul Bailey, Alex. Brownridge, Mrs. F. E. Coulter, Mrs. A. G. Flagg, Guy Gilbert, Jerry Hays, Jr., F. A. Henderson, T. J. Hunter, John Lutz, Jr., Jules Markel, A. I. Mellenthin, Miss Lula Minter, Judge J. G. Mitchell, R. B. Newcom, the Rev. Harry Evan Owens, Ernest L. Spencer, W. H. Spurgeon, Jr., T. E. Stephenson, Miss Lena Thomas, M. B. Wellington, Mrs. E. D. White, W. B. Williams, Dr. A. E. Kelly and R. Carson Smith.

Mrs. Clark said today. "Every other building was a saloon. Sewing up men who had been cut in fights was a usual job for mother. There weren't any anesthetics—she just sewed them up."

Dr. Hammond, retired, came to Santa Ana 25 years ago after a career that began in a print shop and continued in her little frame house in the now-abandoned town of Little Lake.

Member of Union
Alone, she came to California in 1872 and was one of the first woman physicians in the state. Several years later Dr. William M. Hammond, a dentist, followed her to California and married her. She had met him while she was practicing in New York for two years after her graduation from Philadelphia medical college. She worked her way through college by

26 Nations Agree to Halt Flow Of Men, Arms to Warring Spain

DEADLINE IS FEB. 20 AT MIDNIGHT

Enforcement Plan Will Become Effective
On March 6

LONDON. (AP)—Twenty-six nations, including Germany, France and Italy, approved a neutrality committee proposal today to halt the flow of volunteers and munitions into warring Spain by Saturday midnight as a rush of military recruits over the Spanish border apparently developed in France and Italy.

With the exception of Portugal, every nation on the international "hands off Spain" committee ratified the deadline set for midnight Feb. 20. They also accepted a supervisory enforcement plan to become effective March 6.

Ignore Portugal
The committee delegated the Portuguese question to its subcommittee which last night handed down the recommendations.

Portugal's opposition to establishment of an international patrol on her frontiers was ignored by the other powers, which, while hopeful of ultimate Portuguese cooperation, determined to police Portuguese entrances to Spain by a naval blockade.

In effect, the plan embodies two main points:

Two Main Points
1. Establishment of more than 1000 neutral observers along the Franco-Spanish and Gibraltar-Spanish frontiers to report violations, the committee to make representations to offending governments and its members to share the estimated $2,000,000 cost.

2. Lacing a naval cordon around the whole peninsula, Portugal and Spain, with warships of the great European powers. The naval observers, unauthorized to stop or search suspected violators, would threaten sailors to the coast. Ships bound for Spain would pick up observers at control points to insure admissibility of their cargoes.

DUST BLANKETS FOUR STATES

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Strong north winds from 2000 to 6000 feet above the ground whirled a blanket of dust over Texas today as far south as the Gulf coast.

The United States weather bureau reported the dust haze extended roughly from slightly east of Dallas to Columbus, N. M., and from Oklahoma and Kansas south to Brownsville in the southernmost tip of the Rio Grande valley.

Visibility at Corpus Christi was reduced to one-half mile. Residents of San Antonio could see three-quarters of a mile.

Yesterday they answered a hurry-up call from La Jolla. They found the homes of Nora Martinez and Jimmie Romas, on Simon street, shattered as though struck by a hurricane.

Windows were broken, clothing and furniture thrown into the yard, fixtures and furnishings broken up, and mattresses set on fire.

Either no one knew the reason, or just wouldn't tell why it happened. The sheriff's office put it down as feud.

Japanese Storm
Fatal for 132

TOKYO. (AP)—A blinding snowstorm raging across northern Japan was believed today to have killed at least 132 persons and injured countless others.

The blizzard, the worst suffered by north Japan in 15 years, was marked by avalanches and snowslides and caused widespread damage on land and sea.

T. B. Beats Auto In Death Race

In the age group from 15 to 35 years, tuberculosis killed more people in Orange county last year than did automobile accidents.

Because aged people from other states come to California to spend their later years, Orange county's death rate from heart and circulatory diseases is higher than the national average.

Contrary to usual form, births in the American race increased, and births in the Mexican race declined in 1936.

These and other significant facts

CITY FLOOD CURB ASKED

Santa Ana Boulevard in Need of Protection,
Householders Say

Flood victims who own property along Santa Ana boulevard appealed last night to the city council to cooperate in establishing a flood control project for the district.

Owners of the property where rowboats went scooting about among the walnut and orange trees and where a "no fishing" sign was posted following the week-end flood, directed a petition to the council, asking for help.

Minter Is Spokesman
Spokesman for the petitioners, property owners on north Santa Ana boulevard, was C. S. Minter, who described the flooded condition of orchards and other property in the territory.

Minter said the farmers held an informal conference with Chairman Willard Smith of the board of supervisors yesterday and that the plan is to work out a flood control project which will divert storm waters in a drain along La Jolla avenue to the Santa Ana river.

Orchards and property in the area have been damaged by the high waters, Minter said, and owners are seeking relief from the situation.

Plan 20-Foot Drain

He pointed out that there now is but one small three-foot conduit draining the boulevard, which was a rushing river during the heavy rains.

It is planned to build at least a 20-foot drain going west on La Jolla, to empty the water into the river instead of groves. During the last storm there was about 30 acres of valuable land under three and a half feet of water.

The council referred the matter to the street commissioner and city engineer for investigation.

La Jolla Feud Cause Is Mystery

A Mexican feud had the sheriff's forces scratching their heads today. They knew there was one, but they don't know why.

Yesterday they answered a hurry-up call from La Jolla. They found the homes of Nora Martinez and Jimmie Romas, on Simon street, shattered as though struck by a hurricane.

Windows were broken, clothing and furniture thrown into the yard, fixtures and furnishings broken up, and mattresses set on fire.

Either no one knew the reason, or just wouldn't tell why it happened. The sheriff's office put it down as feud.

'Gnats to You' Is Sheppard Answer On Court Issue

Congressman Harry R. Sheppard today turned his attention away from the problem of enlarging the supreme court and devoted himself to the subject of eye-gnats.

The gnats aren't in Sheppard's eyes. They're in the eyes of folks in Coachella valley. Sheppard has presented a bill in congress asking a $25,000 appropriation to abate the pest.

But if you ask Congressman Sheppard what he thinks of President Roosevelt's proposal to increase the size of the supreme court, his remark probably would be, "Gnats to you. I do not feel that it would be proper for me to make a statement upon a subject which has not come up for legislation before the house."

FARM TENANT PLEA MADE BY F. D. R.

Congress Asked to Aid
Problem With New Legislation

WASHINGTON. (AP)—President Roosevelt told congress today that "action to provide security" for the nation's farm population is imperative.

Sending to the legislators a report of his special committee on farm tenancy, the chief executive declared that "we can no longer postpone action."

"Most Americans believe," Mr. Roosevelt said, "that our form of government does not prohibit action on behalf of those who need help."

Urge Two Agencies
The committee recommended establishment of two new federal agencies, a federal "windfall" tax on profits from land speculation, and broad activities by both federal and state divisions in the field of tenancy reform.

The report of the majority of the large committee was accompanied by four dissenting views. The majority report suggested a "farm security administration" be created to direct the federal program. The agency would be under the secretary of agriculture.

A "farm security corporation" also was suggested to handle legal transactions growing out of changes in land ownership and of purchases of equipment and the like.

The committee proposed that the "windfall tax" be "a specific tax on capital gains from sales of land made within three years from the date of purchase."

The President said the committee emphasized these necessities:

Four Necessities
"First, action to open the doors of ownership to tenants who now have the requisite ability and experience, but who can become owners only with the assistance of liberal credit, on long terms, and technical advice."

"Second, modest loans, with the necessary guidance and education to prevent small owners from slipping into tenancy, and to help the masses of tenants, croppers and farm laborers at the very bottom of the agricultural ladder increase their stands of living, achieve greater security, and begin the upward climb toward land ownership."

Retirement of Lands
"Third, the retirement by public agencies of land proved to be unsuitable for farming, and assistance to the families living thereon in finding homes on good land."

"Fourth, cooperation with state and local agencies of government to improve the general leasing system."

The President said action along such lines "should furnish a sound basis for the beginning of a program for improving the present intolerable condition of the lowest income farm families."

Presents Solution
He asserted that the only solution to the problem is "a nationwide program under federal leadership and with the assistance of states, counties, communities and individuals."

He pointed out that two of every five farmers are tenants, while on some farm lands the ratio is as great as seven out of every 10 farmers.

The tenant population has been increasing at the rate of about 40,000 annually for 10 years, he said, observing that "the agricultural ladder, for these American citizens, has become a treadmill."

RETIREMENT WINS FAVOR

Senate Group Approves
Resignation at 70
For Justices

WASHINGTON. (AP)—A senate judiciary subcommittee approved today the Sumners bill to permit voluntary retirement of supreme court justices at full pay on reaching 70 years of age.

The retirement measure has been approved by President Roosevelt as a part of his court reorganization program.

Some senators have regarded it as a possible means of alleviating the judicial controversy which has split Democratic ranks. They expressed the belief one or two justices now on the supreme court who are over 70 might voluntarily retire.

Chairman McCarran (D., Nev.) of the subcommittee said the action in approving the bill was unanimous, but that one member did not vote. This was Senator Borah (R., Ida.), who left the meeting early after suggesting the age limit be raised to 75.

McCarran said the bill would be reported to the full committee next Monday and "guessed" it would be taken up in the senate soon afterward, probably the following Wednesday.

Under the Sumners measure—already passed by the house—justices would be given full pay of $20,000 annually.

A speech on behalf of the President's proposals was planned for tonight (7:30 p. m., Santa Ana time, NBC network) by Senator McAdoo (D., Calif.).

GREEN TO FIGHT
HIS EXPULSION

WASHINGTON. (AP)—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, assailed today as "Hitlerism" the order for his expulsion from his own union, the United Mine Workers.

"I won't take it lying down," he told reporters after the miners' international policy committee had accused him of "treason" in the General Motors strike and called on union officials to take away his membership.

PASS MOTION COMMENDING MITCHELL

Claim Investigators in Road Matter Not Well Informed

Supervisors thumbed their noses at the 1936 grand jury today.

They cracked back at the jury's criticism of John Mitchell, then board chairman, for revealing asserted road oil irregularities, by giving Mitchell a vote of thanks and confidence "for upholding his oath of office."

Further "dynamite" from the oil scandal was forecast when Mitchell today revealed he had talked with U. S. Webb, state attorney general, two weeks ago about the oil deal.

Supervisor Steele Finley, Santa Ana, offered the motion, which was seconded by Supervisor N. E. West, Laguna. It was at the request of John Akerman, business manager of the Santa Ana Independent, which "broke" the oil story in an advertisement during the election campaign.

The advertisement pointed out that Don Jerome, son of W. C. Jerome, then supervisor from Santa Ana, was a member of the Eden firm, which furnished the oil.

"Orange county owes a vote of thanks to Mr. Mitchell for upholding his oath of office," Finley said. "The facts stated about the oil being polluted have not been disproved."

"I have hesitated to say anything about it, because I felt the grand jury intended also to attack me. But I feel that it was an injustice to Mr. Mitchell, trying him without giving him a chance to defend himself."

"I am not reflecting on Mr. Jerome or anyone else, but I think Mr. Mitchell took the honorable way. A large majority of the grand jurors did not have the facts."

ATTACK STORY STIRS HAWAII

HONOLULU. (AP)—A story of assault recalling Honolulu's sensational Massie case was told and retold today by a navy officer's wife under protracted police questioning.

Mrs. Bennett S. Copping, 24-year-old wife of a submarine commander, reported she was dragged from her hotel cottage across 75 feet of open yard into a garage and attacked.

When Dr. Henry M. Akina, assistant city-county physician, announced after two examinations there was no indication she had been attacked, police questioned her through last night into the early morning hours today. Under repeated questioning Mrs. Copping reiterated her story, but was not able to furnish a detailed description of her assailant.

Tobacco Heir's
Wife Leaves Him

NEW YORK. (AP)—Julian Louis Reynolds, a member of the Reynolds tobacco family, announced in a public notice today that "my wife, Helene Fortescue Reynolds, having left, I will not be responsible for her debts."

Mrs. Reynolds is the daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Granville R. Fortescue, and is a sister of Mrs. Thalia Massie, central figure in a Honolulu assault and murder case a few years ago. She married Reynolds in Washington last July.

DANGER FROM FLOODS IS PASSING

Patrolmen Still Watch River For Possible Break in Levees

River patrolmen still kept a careful watch over the Santa Ana river today, although the water has dropped to a low level.

The channel lies crisscrossed in several vulnerable spots, and last night and today patrols kept a vigil on the lowering storm waters to see that they do not break out of the river banks.

There were but 500 second feet of water flowing down the river yesterday afternoon, but the levees in the county have been cut so badly that they are in dangerous condition and bear watching.

Flood Control Engineer M. N. Thompson made a check of the river yesterday afternoon, and found conditions unchanged in the levees, aside from the fact that the water has receded. No immediate danger is feared from the river.

Repair work on county and state roads damaged by the weekend flood which wrought damage estimated at a million dollars in Orange county, got under way again today after all repair work started following the first flood had been washed away.

All roads in the county were open again today aside from McKinley road which leads from Capistrano to Dana Point, it was announced today by A. A. Beard, county road superintendent.

Postmaster Frank Harwood announced that regular mail service has been resumed today after being delayed over the weekend.

Water continued to pour into the Santiago dam today. The dam now holds a record amount of 19,635 acre feet of water, as compared with but 3450 acre feet the first of this month. Yesterday 900 acre feet of water flowed into the dam. Water now stands at 100 feet and six inches at the dam. The dam will hold 25,000 acre feet of water.

THREAT OF SHIP WAR SPREADS

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Seamen's opposition to provisions of the federal maritime safety act spread the threat of another shipwreck tieup to all major Pacific coast ports today as police investigated an outbreak of violence between rival longshore groups here.

Leaders of union seamen at Seattle declared federal court action, similar to injunction petitions already filed here and at Los Angeles, will be brought in the safety (Copeland) act dispute.

Sailings from San Francisco continued as a federal court restraining order held up issuance of the books, which seamen claim would permit blacklisting by employers, pending a hearing set for Saturday.

They fled toward the Virginia line in a truck stolen from the prison yard, but doubled back to Louisville, where they took two automobiles and forced Willard to join them.

Farnsworth Fate In Judge's Hands

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Justice James M. Proctor took under advisement today the sentencing of John S. Farnsworth, former naval lieutenant commander, on a charge of conspiring to communicate naval information to Japan.

Farnsworth, 42, did not plead either guilty or innocent at his trial yesterday, but chose instead to say "Nolo contendere"—contending nothing. His attorneys said he still claimed to be innocent but could not prove it. The maximum penalty is imprisonment for 20 years.

MORE ABOUT T. B. TOLL

Veneral diseases declined from 1935, but were higher than in previous years.

Veneral diseases, target of a national campaign of eradication led by the United States surgeon general, showed a slight increase over the five-year average.

Members of the department performed a staggering number of services: Made 14,379 visits on contagious disease cases, gave 2,323 tuberculin skin tests, made 3,490 home calls on tuberculosis, quarantined 374 dogs suspected of rabies, distributed 32,123 circular letters, reports, and pieces of public health literature, made 95,660 examinations, corrections, and visits in connection with school and child health.

"Tuberculosis is one of the major health problems of Southern California," Dr. Sutherland reported. "Orange county there were 83 deaths and 155 new cases reported during 1936. Here, as is the case over the whole nation, tuberculosis caused more deaths in the 15-35 age group than any other disease. Thirty-three young people in this age group, 25 of them women, died of tuberculosis in 1936.

"Automobile accidents, the next highest cause of death in this age group, killed 22.

"While more and more people each year are coming to the chest diagnostic clinics held at the Orange county hospital and at the Orange County Tuberculosis association rooms in Santa Ana, and while more are being examined in the health department clinics in schools, still too many are waiting until the disease is far advanced before seeking medical attention.

"Urges More Tests

"Each young person, at least, should have a tuberculin skin test and a more complete chest examination if the skin test is positive."

Births were 1334 American, 609 Mexican and 27 others, for a total of 1970. There were 1305 deaths during the year. Of the 1970 babies born, 111 died before the first birthday, giving an infant mortality rate of 56.34 deaths per 1000 live births.

This compares with 64.16 for 1935 and 75.13 for 1934, but is higher than the rates in Los Angeles and the San Diego counties, Dr. Sutherland reported.

The report also outlined activities of the sanitary inspectors, WPA rodent control, milk and meat inspection and laboratory work.

CONVICTS FREE 3 HOSTAGES

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—State highway patrolmen on motorcycles, augmented by searchers in airplanes, apparently were balked today in their search for seven prison farm convicts who freed their hostages unharmed last night.

The trail was lost after the inmates of the Caledonia prison farm released Capt. I. D. Hinton, W. L. Roberts, steward, and Walter H. Willard, 19-year-old civilian, near Pinehurst.

Hinton was held up at pistol point by two prisoners yesterday in a cell block and marched to the arsenal, where the convicts seized guns, and then captured Roberts.

They fled toward the Virginia line in a truck stolen from the prison yard, but doubled back to Louisville, where they took two automobiles and forced Willard to join them.

Mrs. Tomlinson Regains Daughter

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Women stood and cheered in the Kansas City court of appeals today a three-judge decision awarding Mrs. Virginia S. Tomlinson custody of her four-year-old daughter, Sheila Ann.

Mrs. Tomlinson temporarily lost custody of the child Saturday in a divorce awarded her husband, D. W. (Tommy) Tomlinson, official and test pilot of the Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc.

The appeal court's finding today restored Sheila Ann to her mother, taking her from the Sisters of Notre Dame de Sion here where she had been ordered by Judge Daniel E. Bird, who sat in the divorce hearing.

Foshay, Henley Granted Paroles

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The federal board of parole granted paroles yesterday to Henry H. Henley and Wilbur B. Foshay of Minneapolis.

They are serving 15-year sentences in Leavenworth penitentiary for using the mails to dispose of worthless securities. The paroles are effective May 6.

BEGINS JAIL TERM

Eugene C. Chapple, arrested by California Highway Patrol Officer Lloyd Groover on drunk driving charges, today was beginning a three-month term in the county jail. He pleaded guilty to the charge before Justice Kenneth Morrison yesterday.

THEFT CASE DROPPED

Petty theft charges against J. M. Christensen filed by W. O. Gamble in connection with the alleged theft of $33 worth of groceries, were dismissed in Santa Ana justice court this morning after Gamble reported the case had been compromised.

JIM FARLEY KISSED AT BANQUET

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Praise from President Roosevelt, a turnout of 1700 admirers, and an unexpected kiss brought momentary blushing to James A. Farley's round face, but left him today with memories of an unusual testimonial.

Democrats at odds over the administration court program, prospective rivals for the 1940 presidential nomination, leaders of opposing factions in state politics, all sat together at dinner in the Mayflower hotel last night in tribute to "Jim."

"Not Political Meet"

Without mentioning the judiciary, President Roosevelt emphasized he addressed the gathering not as "fellow Democrats" but as "fellow Americans who joined together last fall for principles we are seeking to establish."

"It is not a political gathering," he said slowly, "or a party gathering, or a victory gathering to hatch up some mysterious plot or all out coup d'etat. The only label appropriate is 'Jim Farley and His Friends.'"

To cheers, Mr. Roosevelt listed as attributes of Farley: Public service, loyalty, honor and decency, good humor, courage and a sense of humor.

The names of Maine and Vermont were boomed laughingly in a state by state introduction of distinguished guests, but the President referred to Farley as a major prophet because of his prediction the Democrats would lose only those two states.

Farley was red as the rose pinned on him after a kiss by Mary Dewson, vice-president of the Democratic national committee.

SAYS MANY OIL WELLS SLANT

Everybody was drilling whipstocked wells at Huntington Beach in 1935, Dr. V. Nelson, secretary of the Southern California Drilling company, testified in court here yesterday.

Accused by Standard Oil Company of slanting wells into Standard's pool, Nelson's company is defendant in a suit asking $175,000 damages and an accounting of oil produced.

A jury is hearing the case, expected to last for 45 court days, in Superior Judge James L. Allen's court.

"We were planning a third well, a directional or crooked hole, same as everybody else drilled there, and there were no bones about it," Nelson said. He was under questioning by Oscar Lawler, Standard's famous oil attorney.

Alexander Anderson, Fullerton inventor and head of an oil well surveying firm, testified today that he had surveyed the Sevens No. 1 well involved in the suit.

It was expected that Lawler would attempt to introduce the survey as evidence.

Merriam Tells New Liquor Plan

LONG BEACH. (AP)—Gov. Frank F. Merriam expressed sympathetic interest today in expected measures proposing distribution of hard liquor through state-operated stores and establishment of a state labor court empowered to decree compulsory arbitration of differences between employers and workers.

The governor said he expects the measures to be introduced after the second half of the current legislative session convenes.

GOES TO JAIL

John S. Conner, 45, of Fullerton, was booked at the county jail today on charges of petty theft, in lieu of $50 bail set by Justice Halsey Spence, Fullerton, yesterday.

the expression of thanks and confidence.

"I think Mr. Mitchell did what he thought was the proper thing," commented Smith.

Barb West

"It was not only what he thought was right, but what was right," Finley rejoined.

"Several members of the grand jury," said West, "are good friends of mine, and they are honorable gentlemen, but they should have known that the setting of the contract was irregular, and that the specifications were not lived up to."

"If there is to be any charge of politics, the grand jury has left itself open to that charge."

Supervisor Harry D. Riley, Anaheim, declared he would have done the same as Mitchell in the same circumstances.

Opened Bids

Mitchell explained that he did not volunteer the information, but at Akerman's request, showed that the oil tests had been made.

Ironically, the board a few minutes later opened bids from eight firms for supplying county road oil during the coming year. Eden Oil company did not submit a bid. An award will be made next week.

Akerman also protested against any payment of a $1700 bill filed by the Eden firm for the questioned oil, which, it has been contended, contained more mud and water than specifications allowed.

ordinance with an explanation of its intent, which he said had been misconstrued as a setup of a secret body of men who could cite people on traffic cases and cause persecution and embarrassment. He said it is not intended as a police measure, but as a traffic safety measure.

Explains Secrecy Clause

Layton claimed that the matter of whether the so-called "secret police" or traffic patrolmen are appointed will be up to the safety council, yet to be named. He said the clause in the ordinance which was construed as the "secrecy" clause was put in to keep habitual violators from knowing who is on the patrol.

City Attorney L. W. Blodgett then took the floor, also saying the ordinance does not provide for secret police. The paragraph under question, he said, was intended to result in action by the safety commission as a unit, and not as individual members. This was especially in regard to publicity.

Synopsis of Plan

Summed up, proponents of the ordinance, and Chief of Police Floyd W. Howard, said the law will provide for creation of a safety council which will make recommendations to the city council on safety measures each month; that the council would be empowered to recommend appointment of traffic safety patrolmen; that these patrolmen would have to be recommended by the chief of police; that the city council would have to approve the names; that the names thereby could become public property through the action of the city council if the traffic safety patrolmen are named.

Councilman Smith started the fireworks with a series of questions. He wanted to know if the traffic safety patrolmen would be part of the police department. Blodgett said they would be responsible to the safety commission.

Smith Retort

When Layton said the traffic safety policemen would have badges as evidence of their authority, Smith said:

"That's what I wanted you to say! No one knows who they are. Why confer this power and authority on 50 men? I am for anything that will help a safety program, but this will not. These patrolmen will have badges. It used to be that motorcycle officers hid and arrested whom they chose. But they changed that. Now they ride the highways and everybody knows them."

Layton's comeback

Layton said that "Mr. Smith assumes a lot of discom, but I have more confidence in the committee's ability than yours." Eight men conferred on details of the measure, he said, referring to the committee. Then, Mr. Smith, he said, "Then you presume to oppose the whole thing?"

"Where have they got this thing outside of Russia?" asked Smith.

"I haven't been studying Russia recently," Layton replied. He then called for the question on the ordinance vote.

Smith indicated he didn't like this move, which he interpreted as an effort to keep him from talking.

"I'm elected by the people just the same as you," Smith informed Layton, "and I'll talk as much as I please."

Councilman Penn poured oil on the troubled waters by suggesting that if the ordinance needs changing later on, it can be changed.

Bill Ends Taxes On Home Furniture

Household furnishings, even in hotels and apartments, would be exempted from taxation to the amount of $300 if an assembly bill now before the legislature passes, Assessor James Sleeper reported today.

At a meeting of the legislative committee of the state assessors' association last week-end, the group disapproved the bill, but agreed to approve it if it is amended to apply only to furnishings in family use, Sleeper said.

He said the exemption would make it unnecessary to assess the furnishings in any except the larger and more expensive dwellings.

Such assessments are not easily made, Sleeper said, because of the inconvenience to householders, and the difficulty of appraising rugs and furniture.

Offers Bond Plan To Save Interest

Placentia's improvement district No. 1, under which streets were installed 10 years ago, will save $1600 in interest charges if bondholders accept an offer issued today by County Treasurer Terry E. Stephenson.

He doesn't expect many to make the offer, he admitted. With funds on hand to retire the $42,489.70 in bonds, which mature in October, Stephenson gave notice to bondholders he is ready to pay them off. This would save 6 per cent interest.

WELLINGTON WILL HEAD SCOUTS

For the fourteenth consecutive year, Col. M. B. Wellington has been chosen president of the Orange county Boy Scout council.

The fourteenth time came last night at the annual session of the council in the Elks temple at Anaheim, where Wellington also received an honorary emblem for 20 years service in scouting.

Other officers elected for the coming year are: Judge D. J. Dodge, Costa Mesa, vice president for the southern section of the council; R. M. Seamans, Fullerton, vice president for the northern section; Charles Pritchard, Santa Ana, treasurer, and Harrison White, secretary and executive officer.

County Rates High

"Outlook for the coming year is excellent," White told the council. One boy out of every three between the ages of 10 and 16 in the region belongs to the Scouts, said Colonel Wellington. The Orange county rating places it among the first 10 councils in the United States.

It developed in discussion that financing is the only thing holding the program back at present.

Plans are being made for the region camporee in Irvine park and the Sea Scout rendezvous at Newport harbor, which drew hundreds of boys here last year.

Arrangements are under way to have a camp physician at Rohlki this summer, Dr. K. H. Sutherland said.

Trophies Awarded

Award of the Silver Beaver, a coveted trophy for outstanding service, went to two members of the council last night. Those winning the token were R. M. Seamans and Arl McCormick, Huntington Beach.

Committee chairmen for the year are: C. L. Pritchard, Santa Ana, finance; W. K. Hillyard, Santa Ana, camping; Ray Adkinson, Santa Ana, publicity and education; Dr. K. H. Sutherland, Santa Ana, health; Judge D. J. Dodge, Costa Mesa, safety; W. H. Spurgeon, Santa Ana, court of honor; Lyle Mitchell, Santa Ana, training; Maynard Harry Williamson, Newport Beach, sea scouting; Kenneth Kessler, Fullerton, cubbing; Leo Friis, Anaheim, civic service.

Informal discussion with Santa Fe railroad officials, Wood said, indicated that travel from Los Angeles to the most remote part of Orange county could be made in less than one hour with modern Diesel-powered streamlined trains.

LODGE PLANS TO GIVE CIRCUS

With promise of making it an annual event, Santa Ana Masons are putting final preparations now on a "circus" to be staged Saturday evening in the main lodge room of the Masonic temple.

Santa Ana lodge No. 241, Silver Cord lodge No. 505, Jubilee lodge No. 604, Santa Ana Commandery No. 36, and Santa Ana chapter No. 73, R. A. M., are cooperating in presenting the gala entertainment, which it is hoped will become the outstanding Masonic social event each year.

The program, free to all Masons and their friends, will start at 7:45 p. m., under direction of Lyle Anderson, who is to be master of ceremonies for the evening.

The first hour will feature Fanchon and Marco vaudeville acts, and cards and dancing will follow, those wishing to participate in auction or contract bridge going to the third floor lounge and others finding music and diversion in the basement ballroom. For those who do not care for either cards or dancing, a sound picture is to be presented in the lodge room. Prizes will feature all three branches of the party.

STANLEY JONES TO BROADCAST

All Methodism in the world will sit down to dinner at the same time tomorrow.

Twenty thousand churches with a total of more than four and a half million members will be linked into one gathering by radio, and all will listen to the voice of Dr. E. Stanley Jones of India, missionary of the Methodist board of foreign missions.

The local M. E. church will include the national broadcast in its church college night program which convenes at that time for the fifth in this year's series. J. F. Burke, editor of the air, will discuss "The Significance of the Gospel" again this week.

The national radio program will be heard from 6:30 to 7 p. m. tomorrow. It will be broadcast over KFSD.

Alumni Prepare to Welcome Sproul

Berkeley and Los Angeles alumni of the University of California today weren't accepting bridge invitations for Wednesday night.

Several hundred U. C. and U. C. L. A. alumni will greet Dr. Robert Grodon Sproul, president of the university, and the U. C. Glee club Wednesday night following a dinner in the American Legion hall. All alumni in Orange county are invited, according to James Workman, even those who have not yet made reservations.

Robert Shiley, executive manager of the California Alumni association, will act as master of ceremonies, assisted by Floyd Blower of Santa Ana. Dinner at $1 a plate, will begin at 7 p. m.

Texas Pastors at Foursquare Church

Adding to a week of revival services at the Four Square church here, during which time the Rev. Harold Chalfont and Mrs. Chalfont have addressed hundreds of young people of Orange county, the Rev. Hal Marona and Mrs. Marona of Houston, Texas, will preach at tonight's services.

The Rev. Mr. Marona will preach on the subject, "Remember Lot's Wife," the Rev. W. C. Parham, pastor of the church, said today.

Both the Maronas and the Chalfonts will continue to be featured during the week, with a special "Family Night" being scheduled Friday.

Fight Ends Up In County Jail

It was a good fight while it lasted, but it ended in the county jail.

Herbert Schooley, 29, of La Habra, and Lyndie K. Wells, 21, of Brea, were repenting at leisure today. They were facing charges of disturbing the peace after they had engaged in a fist fight in the Star cafe, Buena Park, last night.

TRAVEL STUDY FOR COUNTY APPROVED

A drive to establish quick, comfortable transportation in Orange county, and between this county and the city of Los Angeles, gained approval of the board of supervisors today.

Giving assent to the proposal to the coastal chambers of commerce, the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, and others for a WPA survey of transportation needs, the board asked the county planning commission to prepare a WPA project form for the board's adoption.

The planning commission, represented by John Markel, presented a preliminary project draft this morning, prepared by L. Deming Tilton, nationally known planning consultant.

Howard Wood and John P. Scripps of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce and W. H. Gallienne, secretary of the Huntington Beach Chamber of Commerce, spoke in favor of the plan.

Wood said $150,000 per week payroll in Huntington Beach is largely lost to the county because transportation to the inland is poor. He said Dana Point, San Clement and other beach communities could be developed as weekend home places for Los Angeles executives with proper transportation.

Informal discussion with Santa Fe railroad officials, Wood said, indicated that travel from Los Angeles to the most remote part of Orange county could be made in less than one hour with modern Diesel-powered streamlined trains.

Workers Hurt in Truck Collision

Cut and bruised when their car overturned after being struck by a truck near Irvine park this morning, four Mexican laborers were treated at the county hospital.

Jesus Alcaraz, 50, route 2, Santa Ana, was the most severely injured, incurring a possible fractured pelvis. Amos Lopez, Benny Pena and Ernest Fierro of Delhi were cut and bruised. The men were on the way to work at the park at the time of the collision.

Three of the ablest golfers on the Santa Ana Country club's 14-man team for Southern California association play are from Huntington Beach—R. J. (Jack) Robertson, champion of the oil community, and semi-finalist in the Santa Ana men's tournament; Ted Burkett, a rapidly-improving southpaw swinger; and J. K. McDonald, veteran campaigner of the Newport boulevard links.

Free Throws: A former New York University sensation, a 6 ft. 4 in. one-man riot by the name of Flowers, put the Orange Concoradians out of the Southern California Y.M.C.A. playoffs. Three different players were assigned to guard him, but he scored 30 points in a 58-28 victory over Vic Baden's quintet, including two Santa Anas—Tom Lacy and Fred Erdhaus, all-conference players while with the Dons.

Anaheim High's basketball problem in drill this week is how to keep Sammy Francis of Tustin out of his side-court scoring zone. Ted DeVellis of the Colonists covered Sam like a blanket in an early practice game, but allowed him to run wild in the Orange league's first playoff game for 16 points and a 40-14 victory. It will be interesting to see how many points Anaheim allows Center Francis to score for Tustin at Orange Friday night.

The lightning-like rise of Joe DiMaggio in baseball is clearly shown by the 22-year-old Italian's salary increases. . . . Back in 1933 he was drawing $150 per month with the San Francisco Seals. They paid him $550 per month the next season. The Yankees bought the hard-hitting outfielder in 1935, but he remained with the Seals at $700 per month. Joe collected $8500 from New York's world champions last year. This season he is in line for $15,000—or perhaps $20,000.

Within a few days Orange county will have its widest variety of sports entertainment—boxing, wrestling, racing, track, baseball, rugby, swimming, golf, tennis, basketball.

Did you know that nine of the University of Southern California's first 10 basketball players are Indians? . . . A Cleveland High school has five Bobs, all playing different positions, on its basketball varsity of 10 players. Coach Don Faurel is conducting a school for quarterbacks at the University of Missouri. The class, which meets once a week, is required for all prospective signal-barkers. . . . Jack Lovelock, New Zealand middle-distance star, who has returned to London after a world tour, plans to hang up his spikes this year to concentrate on medical studies.

At the moment, Vines is leading in their cross-country series, 10-8.

MORGAN TOPS ROEBUCK IN FAST TIME

Scores 2 Falls Within 2 Minutes; Berger and Dr. Hall Colorless

By BOB GUILD
Big Ben Morgan, the mighty old mar of the mountains, is returned the winner again last night at the Orange County Athletic club in a net time of something under 10 minutes.

Big Ben Morgan wins by virtue of two bunny hugs and a fine face of hair over Tiny Roebuck, an alleged Indian.

Tiny sets out to make it a battle, although there are some in the house who will tell you they think this is somewhat presumptuous of Tiny. This is because last week Morgan beats not only Roebuck, but two other guys, all inside of 45 minutes.

Anyhow, it goes like this: Tiny steps right out and gets outraged. His eyes flash fire, etc. He dumps Mr. Morgan in eight minutes with a backward body slam which comes as considerable surprise to the hillbilly.

The rest is mere formality, and besides the boys have very little time before the referee. So Morgan hugs Tiny down 1-05, then turns right around and hugs him down again in 54 seconds. That guy is just too exuberant about his amours.

There is a distinct odor of limburger about things as Dr. Len Hall, a chiropractor turned wrestler, and Casey Berger mingle in a semi-windup.

No doubt thinking to build themselves into a main event, these lads wax a little bit over-the-top as they groan themselves into a 45-minute draw. There is no excuse for this sort of thing. Neither will the part of villain, which usually is written into the script, so the affair gets somewhat tedious and cannot end. They are very polite, except for Dr. Hall, who sometimes kicks and stuff, and it is plain to see each is too polite to win himself, but too mean to let the other fellow win.

A deputation of ringers called on Matchmaker Tige Clinton after the show and tell him it would be wonderful if these two fellows are not permitted in the ring at the same time any more. It makes bedtime too late.

In the opener Abe Yousoff spills Bomber Herman in 16:07 with a body slam, and in the second fight and peoples' choice, Bobby Coleman justifies his reputation with a nice, clean-cut win over Al Rundle, in 15:34.

OAKLAND SIGNS NEW HURLERS

OAKLAND. (P)—Three young pitchers, Marvin Brewer, Bob Miller and Ralph Hamner have been turned over to the Oakland baseball club by the New York Yankees. It was announced today. Brewer won 18 and lost 9 for Birmingham of the New York-Penn league last season. He was third high in the league's strike-out column with 134 and seventh in earned runs with 3.67. His home is in Rolla, Mo. Miller had a short trial with the Oaks last season. Hamner, from Bradley, Ark., is a six-foot three-inch 200-pounder making his start in organized ball. He impressed scouts while twirling for Centenary college and the University of Texas. The three are right handers.

Former Stanford Ace Lands Job In Sacramento

SACRAMENTO. (P)—Frank Austiza, Stanford university football quarterback in 1933, '34 and '35, will head the physical education department of Sacramento's new main high school when it opens next fall.

Don Lash Chases Criminals After Chasing Records

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (P)—When Don Lash, Indiana University's "iron man" distance runner, decides to give up chasing world track records he intends to devote his time to chasing criminals.

Lash, who set a new world indoor record for the two-mile run at Boston Saturday night by running the distance in 8:58, disclosed today he has become interested in police methods and law enforcement problems and would like to get a job with the Indiana State police when he leaves school.

PREDICT KAYO FOR LOUIS

Brown's Confidence Not Echoed by Fans, Who Will Pay $25,000

KANSAS CITY. (P)—Natie Brown insisted today Joe Louis is no Brown Bomber when it comes to Mr. Brown.

Two hundred pounds of eagerness, the Washington Hebrew expected to do even better in his 10-round engagement with Louis tomorrow night than he did in 1935. Then he stayed 10 rounds with Joe—but he can't remember seven of them so well.

Billy McCarney, Brown's manager, takes the blame for the knockdown Louis scored in 1935. McCarney said he sent Brown out to carry the fight to the Bomber. Brown landed two pretty lefts, tried it again, and the roof fell in. Louis hit him with a right and left as close together as Saturday and Sunday. Brown was mentally absent for the next seven rounds.

McCarney assured the same error will not be made tomorrow night. Brown will make no errors, his pilot said—and Louis will do his share of the catching.

Brown's expressed confidence is not echoed by the fans, who vision a quick Louis Kayo. Matchmaker Frank Gatto predicted a $25,000 gate, of which Louis will draw a 40 per cent cut. Brown draws 15 per cent.

Louis was expected to leave for Kansas City today. He has been training in Chicago. Jimmy Garrison, Kansas City lightweight, is booked for an eight-round preliminary against Lee Bacca of Denver.

SAINTS HOLD INTERCLASS MONDAY

Delayed by rain-soaked Poly field, Santa Ana High school's track-and-field aspirants will not begin their annual interclass meet until next Monday, Coach Reece Greene announced today.

The Saints will compete in two different meets this year. The first—and more important one—will be open to every boy in school, while the second will be for Class B and C athletes only.

The same scoring system will be employed for both meets. Five places will be awarded, with winners of the first three receiving ribbons in each event. The schedule:

Monday—Open meet—seven events, including the 70-yard high hurdles, 50-yard dash, 660-yard run, 150-yard dash, pole vault, shotput and broad jump.

Wednesday, Feb. 24—Open meet—seven events, including 120-yard low hurdles, 120-yard run, 330-yard dash, 120-yard dash, 440-yard relay, high jump and discus.

Friday, Feb. 26—Class B and C meet.

GRID COACHES FAVOR RULE CHANGES

Only Slight Objections Found to Kickoff and Aerial Alterations

NEW YORK. (P)—Almost without dissent, America's leading football coaches gave "three long cheers" today for the National Football Rules committee.

While there were a few minor objections to the results of the committee's annual meeting at Absecon, N. J., over the week-end, an Associated Press poll produced laudatory comments from most of the tutors.

Dick Harlow of Harvard said: "Every change made was a good sound one."

"They gave officials more ground to stand on," added Ike Armstrong of Utah university. "Clarification on pass interference was needed for a long time."

Frank Thomas of Alabama, Bernie Moore of Louisiana State, Harvey Harman of Pennsylvania and Howard Jones of Southern California also chimed in with unqualified praise. The opinion that the changes won't make any "vital difference" was voiced by Wallace Wade of Duke and W. A. Alexander of Georgia Tech.

Harry Kipke, a member of the coaches' rules committee, who attended the meeting, explained: "That interference rule is the hardest thing in the world to write. We think the supplemental note will make it plain to officials that, no matter how much bodily contact there is, it still doesn't have to mean pass interference."

The requirement on numbering of players and the rule that kick-offs going outside will not be called back also met a favorable reception.

The coaches also agreed the committee had been very fair in leaving the matter of ineligible players "screening" for forward passes up to the coaches, although they were guilty themselves.

The rules on the kicking of a free ball brought a howl from Ducky Pond of Yale, whose 1936 star, Larry Kelley, made the famous "scooter kick" that stirred up most of the discussion. He believes if a player accidentally strikes the ball with his foot while trying to pick it up it's "a shame that all his efforts will be rewarded by the loss of the ball."

Elmer Layden of Notre Dame demanded a further change in the rule on punts where the ball is downed by a member of the kicking team.

Some ringers figured the knockout blow struck even higher. They saw a smashing right hand on the Frenchman's jaw just before he dropped to the canvas clutching his middle.

In their second bout a year ago Thil was declared the winner in the fourth round under similar circumstances amidst vigorous protests from the customers. The French veteran, considering retirement, and not fought since then until last night.

Bauer, who failed to go the route with Ramage in a bout two months ago, was substituted for Rosenbloom when the latter complained that a finger injury would keep him out of the ring.

Don Budge-ing Bitsy Grant

The tennis fathers gave Don Budge No. 1 ranking for 1936—then the red-haired Californian was defeated in his first two matches this year by Bryan M. (Bitsy) Grant. After beating Budge twice, third-ranked Bitsy was defeated by Budge in their third meeting. The tennis-wise attributed Budge's losses to a slower pattern for rounding into top form.

THIL VICTORY PROTESTED

Disqualification of Lou Brouillard Unpopular With Fans in Paris

PARIS. (P)—Lou Brouillard let out a howl that could almost be heard back in his Massachusetts home today as he protested last night's foul that meant a third straight failure in his efforts to win Marcel Thil's claims to the world middleweight boxing title.

In a bout that was almost a duplicate of their meeting a year ago, Thil retained his International Boxing union championship recognition when he won on a foul in the sixth round. Some 12,000 fans protested loudly at the Palais Des Sports last night when the referee, after counting out the French veteran, consulted the judges and then announced he was the winner on a foul.

"I'll never box in Paris again," Lou roared today. "That's twice I've knocked Thil out and twice they have disqualified me. I didn't hit him low. I hit him in the stomach."

Some ringers figured the knockout blow struck even higher. They saw a smashing right hand on the Frenchman's jaw just before he dropped to the canvas clutching his middle.

In their second bout a year ago Thil was declared the winner in the fourth round under similar circumstances amidst vigorous protests from the customers. The French veteran, considering retirement, and not fought since then until last night.

Sports Roundup

By SCOTTY RESTON (Pinch-hitting for Brietz)

NEW YORK. (P)—James J. Braddock, the most active referee ever to hold the heavyweight championship, leaves tonight for Pittsburgh on another charity job.

The champ's the most willing gent in town. He hasn't forgotten his own days on charity. . . . Every night or so he's helping somebody out.

Babe Ruth wasn't in Bermuda five minutes yesterday before he was in the limelight. . . . An admirer rushed up to present him with three bottles of vintage wine. . . . This was fine, explained the Babe, it would look good in the trophy he expected to win in the golf tournament, there starting Thursday. . . . The Babe handed the wine to a porter, who promptly dropped and smashed all three bottles. . . . But the Babe took it in stride. . . . He vowed to win the trophy anyway. . . .

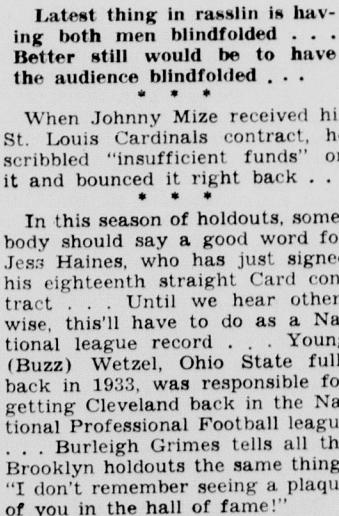

Next time you hear somebody condemning Branch Rickey, remember this one. . . . Fellow called Willie Johnson was with the St. Louis Browns for 23 years most of the time as road secretary. . . . When the Browns changed hands recently, Johnson was let out. . . . Few days ago he was named president of the Peoria team in the Three-I league. . . . Jubilant, he told of going to Rickey in desperation. . . . He wanted to stay in baseball after a lifetime at it. . . . Rickey called Warren Giles in Cincinnati and recommended Willie. . . . Giles gave him the Peoria job. . . .

Latest thing in rasslin is having both men blindfolded. . . . Better still would be to have the audience blindfolded. . . .

When Johnny Mize received his St. Louis Cardinals contract, he scribbled "insufficient funds" on it and bounced it right back. . . .

In this season of holdouts, somebody should say a good word for Jess Haines, who has just signed his eighteenth straight card contract. . . . Until we hear otherwise, this'll have to do as a National league record. . . . Young Buzz Wetzel, Ohio State full-back in 1933, was responsible for getting Cleveland back in the National Professional Football league. . . . Burleigh Grimes tells all the Brooklyn holdouts the same thing: "I don't remember seeing a plaque of you in the hall of fame!"

There has been, one time and another, apprehension in some circles as to whether there would be any fight. But when Jacobs, who holds exclusive rights to Louis' services, said everything is "all set," the boys figured Jim and Joe were as good as in the ring. Jacobs' assurance that the fight will be held even induced a Chicago hotel chef to start planning a big luncheon for next Friday noon. At that time Triloboider Joe Louis 15-round title fight here next June.

ADVENT FIVE WINS, 32-14

Church of Brethren Also Scores, 27-21, in Play Ending March 22

Who will halt Tustin's Advent Christians?

That was the question still confronting the Community Church league today, following the first-half champions' striking 32 to 14 basketball victory over the Santa Ana Nazarenes at the Y. M. C. A. here last night.

In the other game, which had the bulk of the scoring and excitement packed into the second half, the Church of Brethren put the skids under the M. E. South aggregation, 27 to 21, with Barris showing the way at forward with 12 points.

LeRoy (Chub) Sears, former Tustin High school ace, peppered the Nazarene basket for 12 points at guard, and every member of the Advent Christians' starting array found the opposition goal for at least four points.

February games in the new round, which will close March 22, follow:

Feb. 18—First Baptist vs. United Brethren, Advent Christian vs. C. M. A.

Feb. 22—Midway Nazarenes vs. M. E. South, Church of Brethren vs. S. A. Nazarenes.

Feb. 25—Advent Christian vs. United Brethren, First Baptist vs. Church of Brethren.

Lineups:

Brick Dust

Here and There With The Journal's
Rambling County Editor
By T. N. (BRICK) GAINES

I'M finally getting around to Capt. George Portus, major domo of the Laguna Chamber of Commerce, and his much-discussed advertising folder.

That folder, according to advance notices in one publication, was too, too horrible. Bad grammar, worse pictures, and all around terrible, one irked artist claimed.

But I'd like a stand up for Capt. George and his folder. It's a nice'n. Well laid out, with fine pictures, even if a bowler on the green is left-handed.

There are some very lovely photographs of ocean and rocks. Some fine shots of beautiful homes and gardens. Good picture of the city hall and several good ones of schools. Everything presented would be of interest to an Easterner contemplating a trip to Southern California.

Before objectors get to romping on Capt. George too hard, they might try getting up their own folder, once! It's more of a job than it looks!

I've made a dozen enemies since printing Capt. Bill Brown's letter concerning fishing in Magdalena Bay, down in Mexico, where he's now sojourning on Valero II during his fishing cruise.

B. K. Maxwell, head publicity man for Billy Stedman in Fullerton, weeps all over the counter in a letter, thusly:

"Your column is becoming a public benefactor in distributing fishing information, especially in Magdalena Bay, about a thousand miles away, where only one in a million can afford to go."

"You wondered how to get to Guaymas by auto in your Friday column. I've never been there, but I can tell you how Harry Tyler, the Intertype peddler from Los Angeles, gets there. Harry goes down there once a year with his fishing gang. The drive to Nogales and head south. The highway is nothing extra, but the last 50 miles are so bad they have to load their machine on a flat car and go the rest of the way by train."

"If they happen to be in a hurry, which Harry tells me they usually are, they load it on the flatcar and ride the train all the way. Last year it cost $10 for the auto and $5 a head for the passengers. Harry tells me you can charter boats there and he says he has never caught a fish at Guaymas under 90 pounds."

"In the meantime, pass the dope along to Frank Rosow."

"If you want to keep posted on fishing, keep in touch with John Gregory and Perry Maynard on trout, Henry Imm on bass, Kenny Foster on deep sea, Rev. Hawes on Jerry Young and B. K. Maxwell on how not to catch a fish."

"Harry Wilbur," he adds, "is the only person I know of ever to catch an oyster in Newport Bay. And then he winds up with: 'For information on how to fall out of a boat gracefully, consult Pete Davis!'"

I think my champion diver, "Scotty" Muir from Placentia, could give Davis a handcap and still beat him in spilling from anything that floats. Boat operators at San Diego claimed that Scotty did the most graceful and complete job of boat-falling-out-of-they ever seen.

That was the time Scotty set a record by hitting bottom and coming up with his cigar still tightly clamped in the Muir molar.

Editor Art McBride is still worrying about how folks pronounce Assemblyman Tommy Kuchel's name.

Some time ago the La Habra editor suffered through a half-column in his newspaper, telling folks how to pronounce the assemblyman's last name. I guess someone made the same old mistake, because he pops up again, with a lecture on the pronunciation of "Kuchel" like:

"Last you forget, and because he is to speak here next Monday night, I want to remind you about the pronunciation of the name of our assemblyman, Thos. Kuchel. It isn't Kutche, Kootche, Kewehel, or any of the other possible sounds you might figure out of that spelling, but it is called Kee-keel. The reason for it is German, but we won't go into that again."

And then Editor McBride gives us an insight on the wild life in the backwoods of La Habra. Purling animals? Pah, just read this!

Spot Note: One family in La Habra is adding to its income by trapping fur-bearing animals in the attic of its home. They got into the business accidentally, because they heard they heard that the results was a job of fumigation, for the rat had a white streak down its black back. Further information will be furnished on application to paid-up subscribers only.

LEAVE FOR HOME
MIDWAY CITY.—Mrs. E. M. Richardson and Mrs. George Young, Minneapolis, who have been guests of Mrs. Richardson's brothers, C. R. and S. A. Miller for the past few weeks, left Monday for their home.

CONSOLIDATED GROWERS RECEIVE $919,676 FOR SEASON

$740,986 IS PAYMENT TO RANCHERS

Good Prices, Small Crop
Told by Collins at Annual Meeting

ORANGE.—Gross receipts totaling $919,676 were received by Consolidated Orange Growers in Orange, Manager Frank Collins reported at the annual growers' meeting at the Orange Woman's clubhouse at noon today.

"Prices for the 1936 season were considerably better than those of the previous year," he said. "But due to the severe wind, which occurred Oct. 22 and caused a heavy loss of fruit and reduced the grade in some districts, many growers actually received less than in 1935."

Shipments for the past year totaled 745 cars, about 160 cars below shipments of the previous season, it was reported.

Payments made to growers amounted to $740,986. In addition to this payment, $40,107 was received from revolving funds. The major item of expense for the year went to labor, with $112,144 expended. Operating supplies cost another $89,030, Manager Collins told growers.

Loss Severe
Loss of fruit may be more severe than the 37 per cent predicted by citrus authorities, he added, pointing out that actual amount of damage may not be estimated until fruit has had a chance to dry out. Some orchards already show a tendency toward drying, he added.

Purchase of two fluoroscope machines for detection of frozen and otherwise damaged fruit was authorized by the board of directors, the manager announced. These machines will aid materially in exposing bad fruit before packing, he explained.

Death of Fleetwood Bell, a director of the organization, was noted by a resolution of sympathy to the family.

GROVE SCHOOL HEADS CHOSEN

GARDEN GROVE.—Officers of the various classes of the Garden Grove Union high school for the last semester of this year were chosen recently at class meetings with Barbara Dales of the seniors and Chester Coates of the juniors having been elected as president. Other officers selected by the seniors were Jim Lewis, vice-president; Marjorie Brown, secretary-treasurer; and Don Wakeham, council member. Chosen by the juniors to serve with Coates were Edwin Moore, vice-president; Katherine Pollard, secretary; and Esther Lehnhardt, council member.

The freshmen elected Alan Echols, president; Don Cornett, vice-president; Virginia Strong, secretary; Terry Wakeham, treasurer; and Bob Schauer, council member.

ORANGE RITES POSTAL UNION UNITE PAIR IS PLANNED

ORANGE.—Miss Mildred Kinney, daughter of Mrs. Cora Kinney, 310 North Lemon street, was married to William E. Winter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Winter, Santa Ana, at 2 p. m. Valentine's day in the Presbyterian church.

The bride wore a beige tailored suit with blue accessories, and was attended by her sister, Miss Margaret Kinney. George Winter, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Dr. Robert B. McAuley, pastor of the church, read the wedding rites before the altar banked with palms and white tapers. Percy Bohn was soloist, and Miss Myrtle Klahn, Fullerton, was organist.

About 150 guests were present. The bride attended school at Dennison, Texas, and the bridegroom received his education in Santa Ana schools. They will live in Fullerton.

Sponsor Party At Oceanview

OCEANVIEW.—Grade mothers were hostesses at the school Friday afternoon, entertaining at a Valentine party with the teachers and students as their guests.

Sponsoring the party were Mrs. Golden Brown, Mrs. Ray Lacy, Mrs. Martin Murray, Mrs. Ray Beem, Mrs. Rowley, Mrs. E. L. Holsclaw, Mrs. Swartz, Mrs. C. H. Gaston, Mrs. George Harding, Mrs. George Meinhardt, Mrs. Howard Pampin, Mrs. E. P. Mitchell, Mrs. E. E. Woods, Mrs. Jessie Cline, Mrs. Ray McCormick, Mrs. C. B. CLUB HEAD IN CIVIC CLUB HAS CARD PARTY

ORANGE.—Mrs. W. D. James, Hanford, state president of California Federation of Women's Clubs, was speaker at the Monday afternoon meeting of the local club, and explained the $20,000,000 fund being raised by clubs for the purpose of promoting peace.

Most American boys killed in the World war were shot with bullets made in the United States, she said, adding that the interest on the fund is to be used to educate the public concerning the true facts of war.

The federation also is investigating public institutions, with the idea of securing full value for tax dollars spent, Mrs. Hanford said. She told of bad conditions in an institution for the blind, discovered by the clubwomen.

Mrs. A. P. M. Brown, Anaheim, reviewed a play, "First Lady." Following the program tea was served in the lobby. Mrs. Walter Kegler presided at the business meeting. Mrs. M. M. Fishback and Mrs. Stewart White poured, assisted by Mrs. Ed Ehlen and Mrs. Lucien Flippen.

ORANGE RITES POSTAL UNION UNITE PAIR IS PLANNED

GARDEN GROVE.—Plans for formation of a postal credit union for postal workers of Orange county were discussed at a meeting of the Orange County Postal Employees association in the American Legion hall here Saturday evening.

Harry Jackson, Santa Ana Junior college instructor and treasurer of the county teachers credit union, told of benefits derived from the union and its method of operation. Ellis Platt, Pomona postal clerk, outlined success of the union in his community.

A meeting of interested workers will be called soon, George O. Canfield, chairman of a committee named to investigate the matter, announced. Guests at the meeting were H. R. Spangler, Covina, Postmaster Frank Harwood, Santa Ana and Postmaster Claire Head, Garden Grove. Refreshments were served by C. E. Smith and committee.

PIONEER DIES AT PLACENTIA

PLACENTIA.—Herbert S. Leavitt, pioneer railway agent of the Placentia district, died in the Santa Fe hospital in Los Angeles early yesterday morning, following a short illness.

Mr. Leavitt had lived in Placentia for the past 21 years, and for that time had been station agent for the railroad.

Surviving are his wife, Katherine Leavitt, Placentia and a son, Harry C. Leavitt, Venice. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow from the Hilgenfeld funeral home, Anaheim, with the Rev. M. C. Schollenberger, Anaheim Church of Christ pastor, officiating. Interment will be in a San Diego mausoleum.

KELLY TALKS ON TRAFFIC AT ORANGE

ORANGE.—Urging reform in control of drivers through issuance of licenses, Earl Lee Kelly, state director of public works, addressed members of the Orange Men's club here last night.

Fifty per cent of accidents are caused by 10 per cent of the drivers, Kelly said, advocating that licenses be taken from "repeaters" in traffic law violation. He also urged stricter examination for driving license applications.

Kelly gave three reasons for accidents: Improper passing caused 24 per cent of accidents; intoxication, 21 per cent; persistent speeding, 15 per cent, and the rest miscellaneous causes, he claimed. Highways are inadequate for modern traffic, he continued, and multiple lanes are necessary in all much-used roads.

The speaker was introduced by Justus Cramer, Orange, assistant director of public works, who had previously been introduced by Judge J. B. Tucker, president of the club. Harry Harris, Orange, of the state highway maintenance department, was a guest.

Three high school students who won trips to the presidential inauguration, Miss Katherine Sutherland, Gilbert Bell and Richard McClelland, spoke briefly. Scotch songs were sung by Thomas Douglas, accompanied by Mrs. Bess Coe.

Desk Sergeant Starts Work for Orange Police

ORANGE.—Miss Leona Naumann took up her duties as desk sergeant at the local police department Monday, although the first two weeks will be spent learning ins and outs of the work, under the direction of Miss Billie Muffman, outgoing officer, who is leaving to be married sometime in March. Miss Naumann is a graduate of the local high school.

B. Y. P. U. Meets In Grove Home

GARDEN GROVE.—With Misses Myra Lake and Frances Hammon as hostesses, senior B. Y. P. U. members gathered at the parsonage home of the Rev. and Mrs. J. K. Keach for a Valentine party Thursday evening. Games were played and as scores were tallied prizes were presented Miss Marjorie Hunt and Carl Lehnhardt.

Other members present were Misses Twila Hunt, Betty Lehnhardt, Esther and Gladys Cockerham, Mrs. W. J. Keach, Leiland Dunham, Carl Lehnhardt, and Clyde and Earl Henry. Miss Charlotte Orr of Kentucky was a guest.

Shower Fetes Miss Cockerham

GARDEN GROVE.—Miss Esther Cockerham, whose wedding with Leiland Dunham of Fullerton is scheduled for Feb. 25, again was feted late last week when Miss Betty Lehnhardt, Mrs. Henry Hunt, Miss Helen and Miss Marjorie Hunt entertained with a personal shower at the William Lehnhardt home on Verano road.

Other guests were Misses Frances Hammon, Myra Lake, Gladys Cockerham, Grace Hedstrom, Ruth Allen, Ethlyn Lee and Dorothy Allen.

Group Feted in Midway Home

MIDWAY CITY.—Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Miller were dinner hosts at their home on Van Buren street Saturday night, entertaining members of their bridge club.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. John Webster, Costa Mesa; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Coplin, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Overmeyer and Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Benningsdorf, Huntington Beach and Mrs. S. A. Miller, Midway City. High score awards were won by Mrs. Overmeyer and Dan Coplin.

WATER THREATENS DOGS! Hound Hostelry Endangered

LAGUNA BEACH.—A near catastrophe, narrowly averted during the recent rainstorm, for a time endangered the civic pride of Laguna itself when flood waters threatened the palatial dog pound. Quick action by Humane Officer Fred Walters in bracing the structure kept the inmates of "Hotel des Pooches" from being washed out, and strengthened Walter's reputation as being the perfect host.

It was rumored that considerable inconvenience would have been caused had not the inmates been water spaniels.

ADULT SERIES SCOUT CHARTER ANNOUNCED IS RECEIVED

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—Dr. Margaret Baker will speak on "Hygiene of Adolescence" at the next meeting of Newport Harbor High school adult education department, slated for 10 a. m. Thursday, it was announced today. Other speakers slated for the series are Richard Borst, who will talk on "What Is Youth Thinking Today?" on Feb. 25; March 4, Dr. Edward L. Russell will talk on "Some Aspects of Child Psychology" and March 11 Mrs. Golden Weston will take "Our Children As We Have Made Them" as her topic.

Sea Scouts from as far away as Salt Lake City and San Francisco are members of the crew this trip, Captain Lewis said, but declined to discuss destination.

CORONA DEL MAR.—Mrs. Harold E. Meyers of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Williams of Alhambra, spent several days this week at Mrs. Meyers' home on Ocean boulevard.

THE PURPLE ARROW

By MILDRED SNOW GLEASON

Frances Haven, American girl, has lived eight years in a land teeming with life in Denmark with an elderly couple named Jilups. Her only close relative is her brother, Jack, in Bucharest, Rumania, whom she has not seen in several years. When the Jilups try to force her to marry their son Joe, she determines that she must somehow get to her brother. When she meets a strange young man who seems to know something about her and who advises her to keep her head, when she informs the Jilups that she is going to join her brother in Bucharest, they lock her in her room. Through the hired man, she receives a mysterious note, signed only with a crayon drawing of a purple arrow, telling her that her escape has been arranged. She wanders off in the night, and meets a stranger, who she recognizes as the young stranger. She escapes, and reaches Berlin on her way to Bucharest. On the street in Berlin, she again sees the stranger, but he acts, at first, as though he does not recognize her.

"Fran . . ." He held her off at arm's length. "I wouldn't have known you. Grown to be quite a beauty haven't you?" He laughed shortly. "Come on—let's get out of here."

There was little enthusiasm in his voice, and Fran felt crestfallen as he guided her out of the station.

When they were in a taxi, he took off his hat and mopped his forehead. She noticed, with a shock, that he was almost bald and, although he was not yet 40, his face was lined and drawn. The laughing mouth which she remembered so well was petulant now. She swallowed a lump in her throat.

"Well, Jack," she said, trying to sound gay, "aren't you glad to see me?"

"I don't know whether I am or not," he answered bluntly. Fran felt tears start to her eyes, but she blinked them back. "You are honest, anyway," she said lightly.

He avoided her eyes, looking straight ahead of him, a muscle in his jaw twitching slightly. "It's only—well, things are bad, and there's a lot I don't understand. Let it go now. We'll talk later."

Fran felt uncomfortable. She wondered what was the matter with Jack. For a moment, there was nothing more to say, idle chatter seeming off of place, even if it had been possible with this glum companion at her side.

They turned off a broad boulevard into a network of small streets, and finally stopped in front of a three-story house. Jack got out, and the driver dumped the bags onto the sidewalk.

"I have the ground floor," Jack grunted. "It's small, but I think we can manage."

He picked up her luggage and preceded her to the door. A maid with a colored kerchief around her head opened the door for them. She was beaming. Fran smiled bitterly. The maid was glad to welcome her, even if Jack wasn't.

He took her through a rather bare living room into a bedroom. "I guess you'll be all right here. Where do you sleep?" Fran asked.

"There's a daybed in the study. Don't worry. It's very comfortable. Ring if you need anything." He went out, and Fran sat down

NEW EXHIBIT FOR LAGUNA GALLERY

LAGUNA BEACH.—An exhibit of etchings and dry points by John H. Clifford yesterday added to the varied displays being shown at the Laguna Beach Art Gallery.

Along with the new show, recently on display at Columbia University, is the photographic show of the Far-Western Inter-club salon from Palo Alto, and the group of 80 small paintings being auctioned this month besides the regular exhibit of representative paintings in the main gallery.

An exhibit was sent yesterday to the San Diego Woman's club representing the following artists: W. Galen Doss, W. A. Griffith, Heler Smith, Anna A. Hills, Roy M. Ropp, Karl Yens, Grace Vollmer, Virginia Woolley, Eleanor Colburn, Ruth Peabody, Ida Randall Bolles, Milford Zornes, Tom Craig, Baroness Lucienne de St. Mart, Julie Raymond, Seymour Paul, Fern Gary and Bill Paul.

STUDENTS HEAR FORUM TALK

FULLERTON.—An assembly of Fullerton Junior college students was addressed Thursday morning by Dr. Gertrude Laws, head of the bureau of parent education of the state department of education, on "Home Life and Delinquency."

Delinquency Dr. Laws defined as a conflict between personal desires and drives, and the demands of society, in which the individual loses out.

The atmosphere of home life forms the attitudes of children, and these attitudes define their point of view towards society, she said. If parents are not conscious of correct social relations, the child has no opportunity for training in right conduct, she added.

Party Held in Grove Home

GARDEN GROVE.—Betty Hale, assisted by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hale, entertained a group of friends at a Valentine party Friday evening. A guessing game was played with Verna Kunkle winning the prize for high score. A guessing game yielded a prize for Betty Rae Solter.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moran, and daughters, Dixie and Marilyn, Audrey Hawkins, Betty and a McDonald, Betty Houk, Betty June Williamson, Betty Rae Solter and Verna Kunkle.

disconsolately. For a sort of sympathy, this woman, not exactly what she had expected. Then she sighed and began to unpack.

Later, when she joined Jack in the living room, she found it difficult to start a conversation.

"You got my letter?" she asked finally.

Jack lighted a cigaret and leaned back in his chair. "Yes, and the two telegrams."

"But I sent only one — from Berlin."

"Can't help that. I also got one from Copenhagen, signed by you, saying you were coming and would let me know later the exact time of your arrival."

Fran was silent a moment. That one must have been sent by her mysterious friend, The Purple Arrow.

"It's a funny story," she said at last.

"If it's funny, it will be a welcome change."

"I should have said strange," she corrected herself quietly.

Beginning with a description of her unpleasant life with the Jilups, she told him the whole story, only omitting—though she could not have said why—any mention of the blond stranger. Jack listened intently, a frown deepening his forehead.

"I wish to heaven you had stayed with the Jilups!" he said, almost violently, when she had finished. "Or, at least, have left with their permission."

"Why?" she asked. Jack rose nervously and walked to the window. "Because I am afraid of them," he muttered, his back turned to her.

"Yes, yes, yes!" he shouted at her, turning around. Fran drew a long breath. She could see that there was no use in trying to make him explain now. He would when he was ready. She changed the subject. "Do you know anything about the Purple Arrow I wrote to you about?"

"Sure I do," he frowned. "But that's a damned funny thing. I don't see how it fits in, at all."

URGES BETTER HEATING FOR ORCHARDS

M. O. D. Head Tells of Need for Expansion Of Storage Space

A lesson suggested by the oily, black clouds which shrouded Orange county and Southern California citrus groves last month was stressed today by Arthur S. Isham, manager of the Mutual Orange Distributors.

Commenting on the firing of smudge pots to keep temperatures up last month in the freezes, Isham pointed out that the freeze showed that citrus growers must improve orchard heating methods.

"We must have better oil storage, for we nearly exhausted our fuel last month," he said. "Perhaps we could devise natural gas heating systems to supplant oil heating, or even use electricity if the rates could be made cheap enough."

The cold wave stabilized citrus property values, which, Isham said, were on the edge of a dangerous boom.

Orange county citrus growers also were interested today in news that a request from the state railroad commission to tank truck operators, which led to their carrying smudge oil instead of gasoline, is credited with saving a good part of California's citrus orchards during the recent cold weather.

During the 10 days following the cold weather 20,000,000 gallons of smudge oil were carried from refineries into orchards. Most of the truck operators worked 30 to 40 hours without rest. The commission received a number of letters of thanks from citrus growers.

Ask Permit to Erect Tabernacle

Permission to establish a tabernacle on South Broadway just this side of Fairview was sought of the city council last night by the Seventh Day Adventist church.

The tabernacle now is located on South Spadra, Fullerton, and plans are to move it here in about a month for a stay of four months. An alternate location would be Sycamore and Wilshire.

The city council referred the matter to a committee composed of the fire chief, plumbing and building inspectors.

Cupid Active on Valentine's Day

Valentine's day was taken seriously in Southern California, the courthouse marriage license bureau revealed today.

Monday following Sunday's traditional program of lovers declaring themselves, 34 couples appeared here to give notice of their intention to marry. Most of the couples came from Los Angeles county.

CONVICT PASTOR PLASTER FEES IN GIRL CASE ARE CHANGED

ZION, Ill. (AP)—The Rev. Finis Jennings Dake, 33, left for Milwaukee to begin a six months' term in the house of correction on charges of violation of the Mann act.

Mr. Dake played the slide trombone and his wife, who has remained steadfast to him, preached a sermon Sunday night in the Christian Assembly church of Zion, a rival of Wilbur Glenn Voliva's famed religious organization.

The minister admitted at the federal court hearing to petting parties with a young Kenosha girl on trips to East St. Louis and Bloomington, Ill.

Asks $3010 for Nursing Services

Her nursing and household services for 21 months were worth $3010, Selma Wichman said yesterday in starting suit for that amount against Laura Belle Resh and W. H. Pillsbury.

She charged that from Nov. 23, 1934, to July 7, 1936, she provided the service for Pillsbury at his request and at the request of Mrs. Resh. She was not paid, she charged through her attorney, Leo J. Friis.

Uphold Sentence Of Pirate Trio

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Eight-year prison sentences of three men who took part in robbing the vessel Monte Carlo, anchored off San Pedro, were upheld by the United States circuit court of appeals today.

Those sentenced for "attacking a vessel with intent to plunder," on July 8, 1935, were Walter Miller, Carl Carrillo and August Wunderlich.

Engineering Firm Is Incorporated

Plans of two La Habras to start a civil and aeronautical engineering business were made known yesterday when articles of incorporation were filed with County Clerk J. M. Backs.

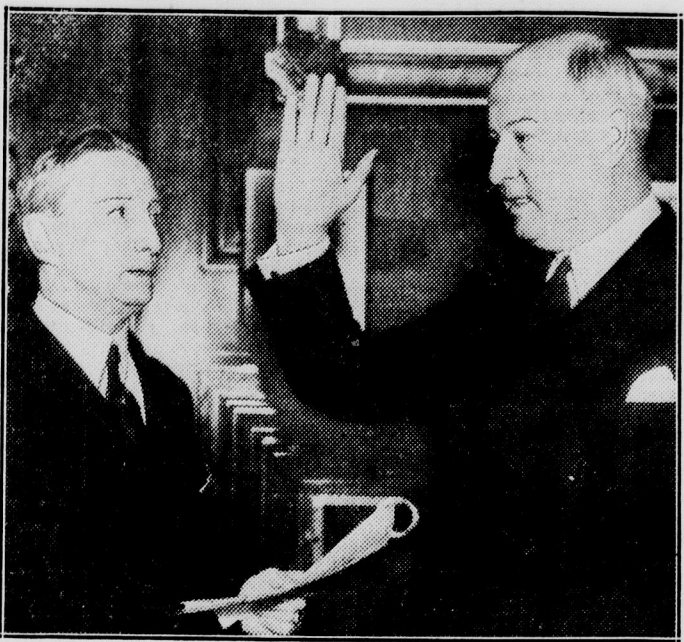

W. B. Whisenand and James F. Whisenand, La Habra; and G. V. Whisenand of Los Angeles were named directors of the firm, "Thunderbird V. Inc.," which is to be capitalized at $25,000.

Articles provide for civil engineering, design and construction of buildings, and all branches of aviation. Offices will be at Rt. 1, box 166a, La Habra.

Takes Oath for Second Term

Postmaster General James A. Farley, usually loquacious, had little to say as he was sworn in for a second term by Owen A. Keen (left). Asked to say something, Farley paused, then grinned and remarked, "Well, it's a nice day." The postmaster general's term is concurrent with that of the president. (Associated Press Photo)

Jaysee 'King's Day' To Be Pompous Ceremony

All the pomp and ceremony of a kingdom will reign tomorrow morning when "King's day" at Santa Ana Junior college will be celebrated.

Vic Rowland, ex-president of the Associated Students, will reign for a day on the Don campus with an assembly scheduled at 11 o'clock in Willard auditorium. "King's day" is an annual college graduation dating from 1926, with the outgoing president acting as "king."

Under the direction of President Neil McDaniel, an elaborate program has been prepared for the event. A kangaroo court will also be held in conjunction with the ceremonies it was said.

Members of the new student executive board will be introduced from the stage, McDaniel said. These include Fred Erdhaus, vice president; Lou Ella Pierce, secretary; LaVonne Frandson, social commissioner; Al Pickhardt, commissioner of forensics; Velma Keuchel, commissioner of women's athletics; Bill Greshner, commissioner of men's athletics; Bob Swanson, El Don editor, and Tay Riggs, editor of Del Ano.

H. M. Conner, Blacksmith for City 26 Years, Resigns

Old-fashioned blacksmithing was becoming a lost art in Santa Ana today.

With the resignation of Hank M. Conner, city blacksmith since 1911, the last of the old-time blacksmiths in Santa Ana fades from the city picture.

The city council last night paid tribute to the long service and loyalty of Hank Conner by passing a special resolution, expressing appreciation to the veteran blacksmith for his service to the city.

For many years Conner took care of the city's blacksmithing problems at the city garage at First and Parton streets. In recent years the work has turned away from shoeing of horses to more modern types of blacksmithing.

Now he has resigned.

George Spangler, who recently sold his property in the 200 block on North Sycamore street, where a new food market will be erected, was another of the old-time blacksmiths who has quit his picturesque business.

Werner Re-Trial Starts Thursday

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Re-trial of the Werner-Weinblatt liquor license case yesterday was set for Thursday before Superior Judge Charles W. Fricke.

Ervin P. (Pete) Werner, former city attorney, informed the court he would act as a defense attorney for his wife, Helen M. (Queen) Werner.

A jury was unable to reach an agreement at the first trial of the Werners and Joseph Weinblatt.

Spinal Injury Is Basis of Lawsuit

Alleging that injuries to her spine will leave her permanently unable to walk, Isabella Arnold yesterday started a $27,683 damage suit in superior court here against Harry Griffith.

She said she suffered the injury Feb. 4 in an accident at Walnut and Main streets, Santa Ana, involving her car and a pickup truck driven by Griffith.

New NRA Chief Is Nominated

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt nominated John M. Carmody of New York Monday to be administrator of the Rural Electrification administration. Carmody, who succeeds Morris L. Cooke of Pennsylvania, has been acting head of the agency.

3 Bandits Shoot Banker in Holdup

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Three men held up the Security State bank yesterday, shot W. E. Walker, a patron in the abdomen and escaped with about $5000, police reported.

SHIPS SOLD AT AUCTION

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Three ships of the Nelson Steamship Company were sold at a federal court auction yesterday for $90,000 each. Swayne & Hoyt, Ltd., bought the Democracy, tied up in San Francisco bay, and the Sacramento, at Eagle Harbor, Wash. The Alaska Steamship Company purchased the Sutherland, tied up here.

ASKS PERMIT TO OPERATE MORTUARY

R. W. Shannon of Orange Plans Establishment at 17th, Broadway

Santa Ana soon will have another funeral home—if the city planning commission and city council approve.

It will be operated by the Shannon Funeral home of Orange, at the southwest corner of Seventeenth and Broadway, if a request made of the city council last night by Ralph W. Shannon is granted.

In his application to establish a mortuary in the big residence now on Seventeenth and Broadway, Shannon cited several reasons why he believes this city should have a fourth mortuary.

He said there are between 600 and 700 burials a year in Santa Ana, handled by three undertaking establishments, while in Orange there are about 160 burials a year, handled by a similar number of undertaking parlors.

Shannon said the Santa Ana public needs a new mortuary in the city because of the increase in population. Extensive improvements in the building will be made if the mortuary is established here, Shannon said, and the building also would be used by the family as a residence. Shannon pointed out in a letter to the council that the property where he proposes to establish a mortuary now is zoned for business and apartments.

Shannon said the Orange mortuary will continue to operate.

The council referred the matter to the city planning commission, which considered the request, and then informed the city council that it would name a special committee to investigate the application and report back at the next meeting of the council.

Seeks Possession Of Oil Machinery

Declaring he has been prevented from removing his oil drilling equipment from a Huntington Beach oil lease he has sold, W. E. McCaslin yesterday started suit in superior court against Leone P. Haslam.

He asked the superior court to determine his rights.

McCaslin said he was granted permission to remove the derrick, tubing, and other equipment, but that "John Doe Wilson" has foreclosed on the property and claims a right to the equipment.

FIESTA PARADE PLANS MADE

Meeting for the purpose of promoting a larger and better Fiesta parade to be held this spring, presidents of nine Santa Ana Junior college service clubs gathered in College hall today.

"It is hoped that service clubs will be able to sponsor floats for this year's Fiesta parade," Neil McDaniel, Associated Student president, said.

Presidents attending the conference were Erma Swartz, Moava; Mary Elizabeth Heaney, Las Gitanas; Evelyn Chapman, Spinners; Bessie Bures, Piloteers; Eloise Walker, Las Meninas; Dick Geeting, Junior Lions; Bill Greshner, Bachelors; Charles McIntyre, Los Cauchos, and Gordon Bishop, Buccaneers.

Officer Cleared In Youth's Death

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A coroner's jury held yesterday that John M. Murphy, 15, of Glendale, was killed by a police officer performing his duty and returned a justifiable homicide verdict.

The officer, A. G. McCulloch, testified he fired a shot at the fleeing youth last Tuesday with the intention of striking him in the leg. Murphy, said McCulloch, stepped into a depression when he shot and the bullet struck him in the body.

Personality Sketches Of U. S. Supreme Court Justices

(Editor's Note: The personnel of the supreme court is of major importance as a result of President Roosevelt's latest recommendation for legislation to permit him to increase its membership to 15 and to provide for retirement of justices over 70. Following is the eighth of a series of short sketches of the lives of the nine members of the court. By reading these, one may be able to predict the future of the court and the President's recent plea for the court to subscribe to his New Deal policies.)

Most implacable enemy of the New Deal on the supreme bench is 74-year-old James Clark McReynolds. At least one New Deal measure has been favored by all of the other justices. McReynolds has been "agin 'em" all.

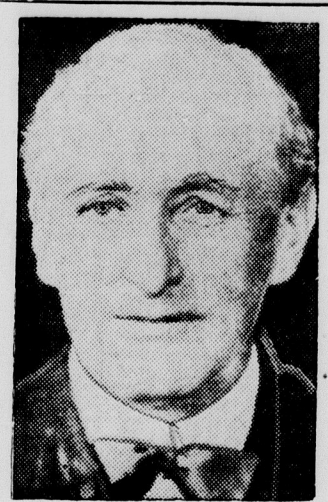

Born in Elkton, Ky., McReynolds was a country lawyer until President Wilson appointed him attorney-general. Wilson discovered he disliked McReynolds, so the President "kicked him upstairs" out of the cabinet to the supreme court.

There McReynolds has been apparently a lonely man, who seldom associates with any of his fellow justices and who has been quoted as actively disliking such liberals as Brandeis and Cardozo. He is unmarried. Among his many dislikes is a hatred of tobacco; he allows no one to smoke in his presence.

He has consistently refused the honor of dining with or visiting with President Roosevelt.

In the new book on the supreme court, "The Nine Old Men," which is being discussed on the floor of congress, the kindest way which the authors, Pearson and Allen, can characterize McReynolds is that he is "the supreme court's greatest tragedy."

When President Roosevelt submits his next piece of New Deal legislation, no one will fight against it with more bitterness than Justice McReynolds.

First Lady Analyzes Her Mail Concerning Proposed Court Plan of President

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt said yesterday that letters to her protesting the President's court reorganization proposals apparently came from upper middle class persons opposed to all social legislation.

"From what they say, they have something material they fear to lose," she told her press conference.

The letters in opposition, the First Lady said, are violent and filled with unexplained attacks of a sweeping nature. Writers pick out only the supreme court enlargement, she explained, jump from that to criticisms of labor unions, and federal relief.

In contrast, Mrs. Roosevelt commented, letters approving many aspects of the plan are more reasonable and dispassionate.

ROY HOWARD RAIDS F. D. R. COURT PLAN

OCCIDENT (AP)—Roy Howard, publisher of Scripps-Howard newspapers, said during a pause between trains:

"President Roosevelt's plan to 'pack' the supreme court should and probably will be defeated.

"The New Deal has been traveling at a pretty fast clip. Many of its objectives have been admirable. But it is just as well, I believe, to stop occasionally and tighten a few bolts and inspect the mechanism. Otherwise we might lose a wheel and plunge into the ditch."

"Checking the mechanism is the function intended for the supreme court by the constitution framers."

In a statement issued in response to requests for comment, Glass said it was "the most evasive, disingenuous and misleading statement that he had ever read on any grave public problem."

WYMAN CERTIFIED TO STATE POSITION

SACRAMENTO.—O. C. Wyman, administrator of social welfare, was certified yesterday for permanent appointment to the position by the state personnel board and named for the job by Mrs. Florence Turner, director of social welfare. The position pays $4800 a year.

OFFICIALS TO STEP ASIDE FOR DAY

Council Sets Date for Event at Meeting Last Night

All Santa Ana city officials will be ousted on March 15. Members of the Santa Ana De Molay will sit in the high places of city government, taking the reins of city government in their youthful hands on that day.

Last night the city council, on motion of Councilman William Penn, passed a motion setting March 15 as De Molay day in Santa Ana.

Last year the youthful members of the De Molay took over the jobs as mayor, city councilmen, city attorney, chief of police and city judge.

They learned a lot about governmental affairs. For the latter reason, mainly, the city council last night granted a request that the day be set aside again this year.

Resolution to ratify the child labor amendment to the federal constitution. The vote was 21 to 20.

Dinner to Be Thursday Event

Past Presidents of Santa Ana Unit to Be Guests

American Legion Auxiliary members of Orange county units will gather in Santa Ana Veterans' hall Thursday night for a dinner and reception honoring their state president, Mrs. Ruth Mathebat of San Francisco, Santa Ana unit officers and members acting as hostesses for the evening.

All past presidents of the hostess unit have been invited as guests of the evening, as well as presidents of other patriotic women's organizations of the city, and department and district officials.

This list of special guests includes Mrs. Fannie (Mother) Reeves, Mrs. Julia Saunby of Hollywood, Mrs. Lillian Tubbs, Mrs. Clyde Whitney of San Bernardino, Mrs. Florence Robinson, Mrs. Nora McCalla, Mrs. Josephine Lykike, Mrs. Rowena Fultz, Mrs. Virgil Lillard, Mrs. Agnes Struble, Mrs. Gertrude Colver, Mrs. Marian Mathews, Mrs. Margaret Hill, Mrs. Edna Eklund, Mrs. Ruth Jellis, and Mrs. Alma Hoover, past presidents of Santa Ana unit, in order of their terms.

Mrs. Marjorie Wingate, American Legion Auxiliary district president, from Riverside; Mrs. Florence Smith of Anaheim, member of the state finance board; Mrs. Pauline Cleary of Tustin, district vice-president.

Cy Featherly, commander of the local Legion post; Ben Lieberman, area commander; Mrs. Irene Stewart, president of the V. F. W. auxiliary; Mrs. Pearl Laub, D. A. V. auxiliary; Dennis Black, Eight and Forty; Amy Stewart, Mothers club; Miss Mary Charlotte Hoover, Junior auxiliary; and the press.

Mrs. Mathebat will speak in the evening, and other visiting officials will also give short talks. The drill team and sextet of Santa Ana unit will initiate new members from units all over the county.

Mrs. Robert Sandon, president of the hostess unit, asks that reservations for the 6:30 dinner be made at once with herself or Mrs. Eklund. Final plans for the meeting and plans for next month will be discussed at a meeting of the executive board, which Mrs. Sandon has called for this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the hall.

Mrs. S. C. Hill is chairman of the dinner; Mrs. Ella Pickard, tables; Mrs. Earl Lepper and Mrs. Charles Nussbaumer, decorations.

DINNER PARTY HONORS ST. VALENTINE

Merriment and Valentine fun filled several happy hours for Kenneth Loughton, Jr., and eight of his friends Saturday evening when the former's mother, Mrs. Kenneth Loughton, entertained for her son at a Valentine dinner party in their home on Kilson drive.

The dinner hour was an early one, 5:30 o'clock, in order to leave time for games afterward, and appointments for the table at which the guests found their places marked on red cellophane Valentines, were all in keeping with the holiday theme.

Heart-shaped lollipops surrounded the big red heart box and candles in the center of the table and later added their tastiness to the party refreshments. Popper favors with prizes at the places also increased the fun of the dinner hour.

Valentine puzzles and a game with candy hearts, in which the children formed two teams, cats and dogs, created a merry evening for the group, who included Sharon Spencer, Jean Fraley, Bernadine and Anita Humphrey, Lorraine Kiser, Josh Wilson, Jackie Morrison, Jay Hynds and Kenneth.

WILL REVIEW CHINESE BOOK

Chinese costume and the Chinese point of view will color a talk to be given tomorrow afternoon by Jean Anne Gaston at the monthly book review tea held at the Unitarian church at three o'clock.

She will follow the Rev. Julia Budlong's review of "Yang and Yin." Alice Tisdale Hobart's new novel of life in China, and her talk will be literally bringing the picture created by review of the novel up-to-date, for she lived among the Chinese last year.

The public is invited to the review and the tea which will follow.

MARIAN MARTIN'S KIDDIE FROCK SAVES ON SEWING TIME

Wide-eyed are the Baby Book's family of children this month, with all these funny holidays that February brings in its wake.

First it was log cabins, then cupids and lacy hearts, and now they are looking ahead to cherry trees and hatches with George Washington's birthday still in the offing.

After that it will be little lambs and bunnies and Easter eggs, and then summer—just one grand long holiday.

The March babies are Robbie Munro and Dennis Ogle, Robbie on March 21 and Dennis two days later.

Robbie will be just one year old on his next birthday, but already he has quite a command of the English language—at least as much of that language as he needs right at present, for he can say "Mama," "Daddy," "Kit-tee," "Babe," and "Bye-Bye," and he knows bird language too and can coax the pet canary with his gay little twitters.

And he will soon know his Mother Goose. Even now, when Mother says "Hickory Dickory," he knows it is his cue to say, "Duck."

He doesn't walk alone yet, but he stands up and walks around the baby pen hanging on to the fence rails.

Of his toys, he likes best his educational playthings and his Teddy bears; and he loves to ride in automobiles. His longest trip has been to Bakersfield.

Robbie is dark haired with very dark blue eyes and long black lashes. He's a pretty brave little boy. Tries all kinds of things and gets lots of bumps, but never seems to get hurt.

Words are easy for Dennis Ogle, young son of the Joel Ogles and diminutive replica of his Dad. He knows lots of them, and finds that they can be quite expressive even though he doesn't yet put them together into sentences.

For Dennis is only two. Blond and blue-eyed like Daddy Joel, his favorite plaything is his Grandma's (Mrs. D. O. Teasley) toy bulldog, Patty, who comes down from Los Angeles about once a week to visit him. His favorite outdoor sport is throwing things—anything from baseballs to chairs, his favorite indoor sport telephoning.

Most of his days are spent right in his own backyard, though all last summer he lived at the beach and just loved the water.

April 14 is the birthday of Carol Morgan, little dark-eyed daughter of the S. D. Morgans of Grant street, who likes to play with boys and who delights in bicycles and baseballs and all the big outdoors.

To go with her big dark eyes, she has very dark hair cut in a straight bob. For playmates, Jack, who is six and whose birthday is June 6, is in the first grade, with Miss Juanita Pico as his teacher, and Jerry, five, goes to kindergarten.

John is a blond with hazel eyes and loves to be read to—at night. In the daytime, when he's not in school, he adores riding his scooter and skimming along on his roller skates, and right now he is the proud possessor of a new kite. Two goldfish are his only pets, although a friend recently gave him four baby mice, which he gave to the cat next door because the cat liked them better than he did.

Coming home from school the other day to get dressed for a Valentine party which David and Audrey Porter were giving, John found neither Mother nor Grandmother home to help him, so he got himself ready, bandoline and all, and did a pretty good job of it.

PATTERN 9105

Have you ever seen as pretty a frock as this cunning Marian Martin design? Kiddies will love the saucy flare of its brief skirt, and look pretty as a picture in the fetching long or short puffed sleeves and simple bodice, topped by an adorable Eton collar. It's a wise mother who chooses pattern 9105, for its clear instructions are so easy to follow that you'll have each dainty seam stitched up in only a short time. Any "little lady" will approve the exciting finishing touches—perky buttons and a part-way adjustable tie-sash. Miss Two-to-Ten will call this her "favorite," whether for school, playtime, or "dress-up," so choose such washables as challis, percale or crepe.

Pattern 9105 may be ordered only in sizes 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10. Size 6 requires 2½ yards 36-inch fabric.

Send 15 cents in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for each Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your size, name, address, and style number.

For you—new flattery! Send for our new Marian Martin Pattern Book! It contains just the exciting new Spring wardrobe suggestions you've been looking for! Easy-to-sew patterns for everyone from Tiny Tots to Fashionable "Fifties"—including becoming morning and afternoon frocks, dainty undies, dashing sports tops and party fashions. News of new fabrics, too! Book 15 cents. Pattern 15 cents. Twenty-five cents for both when ordered together.

Send your order to Santa Ana Journal, Pattern Department, 117 East Fifth street.

High Shrine Official Honored

Five shrines of the district joined Damascus White Shrine of Jerusalem No. 13 in giving a reception Friday night at the Santa Ana Masonic temple in honor of Deputy Supreme Worthy High Priestess Sue Henry, a member of the local shrine.

The participating shrines—Bethlehem (San Diego), Fullerton (Fullerton), San Geronimo (San Bernardino), Whittier (El Centro), Balthazar (Whittier), and Damascus (Santa Ana)—joined in presenting to their honored guest a set of crystal, Fullerton drill team making the presentation. Mrs. Henry responded with a speech of thanks.

Officers of all the shrines acted as escorts for the deputy, who was in white moire taffeta and carried a bouquet of red and white flowers; and the worthy high priestesses of the six shrines, and past worthy high priestesses and past watchmen of shepherds also received escort honors.

A short memorial service was held for the late Okey Jemeson, who had been a member of Damascus shrine.

Mrs. Eva Mae McConnell, Damascus worthy high priestess, had arranged the program, which included vocal selections by a Mexican trio and solos by Mrs. Elsie Moore of Fullerton.

Refreshments served at the close of the program carried out a red and white motif, the decorations furnished by Whittier's worthy high priestess, and dancing followed. Mrs. McConnell and Fred Pope, the latter a past watchman of shepherds, substituting for Neal Beisel, who was ill, presided over the meeting.

The next session, Feb. 26, will be "drill team night," when drill teams of all the shrines in Southern California will be guests of Damascus shrine.

FAREWELL BIDDEN AT EVENING PARTY

Friends planned an enjoyable party Saturday night to bid farewell to Ray Price, who is leaving Santa Ana to go to the University of Nebraska, gathering for the evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Neilsen at 430 Linwood.

Bridge drew the attention of the group for the early part of the evening. Mrs. Price and Dale Pickering winning the high score prizes, and the guests presenting a monogrammed cigarette lighter to Mr. Price as a memento of their good times together during his residence here.

Valentine centerpieces and favors graced the tables when refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

Enjoying the delightful get-together, one of their last before the departure of the distinguished guest, were the latter and Mrs. Price, who will follow him to Nebraska early next summer; Mr. and Mrs. John Cozad, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Maier, Mrs. Ray Gowdy, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Achey of Huntington Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bernard of Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Pickering of Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. John Turton, and Mr. and Mrs. Neilsen.

STAR OFFICERS HONORED BY FOUR HOSTS

Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Chandler and Mr. and Mrs. Max Gowdy were co-hosts Saturday night at the chapter home on Louise street, entertaining officers and trailers of Santa Ana Eastern Star chapter at an evening of bridge.

After tallying of scores, prizes were presented to Mrs. Albert Chapin, Forest Ave. high, and to Mr. and Mrs. Alex Rex, low.

Enjoying the evening, which concluded with Valentine refreshments, were Mrs. Claude McFarren, Mrs. Paul Cozad, the Messers, and Mesdames Forest White, Al Adrain, Glenn Lyman, Nelson Chast, Norval Holmes, Glen Turner, Arthur Cole, Alex Rex, and John Dunn, and the four hosts.

Lights were turned out after the refreshment course had been placed on the tables, and the light of the candle centerpieces and a glowing fire formed the illumination for this closing hour of the delightful evening.

SIXTH SECTION MEETS FRIDAY

Sixth Household Economics section will meet Friday night at luncheon and program next Friday at half past twelve in the Ebell clubhouse.

Hostesses will be Mrs. C. W. Drutt, Mrs. T. L. Warren, and Mrs. L. C. Fairbanks, and those unable to attend are asked to telephone either 0490-W, 5714-W, or 5631-J.

at 303 South Garney, is a medium blond with blue eyes, and loves to play outdoors. He is just recovering now from the flu, which has kept him shut up in the house pretty much of the time these last few weeks, but he has big plans for the coming weeks, to make up for lost time.

Sunday, his little cousin, Ronny Weinert, and Ronny's dad and mother came over for a birthday dinner at Jerry's home to celebrate Ronny's third birthday, and the two little boys had fun getting acquainted over again and playing together.

Mrs. Tubbs Is Hostess at Tea

A particularly charming courtesy was extended Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Dixon W. Tubbs when she invited a group of friends in to tea at her Tustin avenue home. The occasion was a week-end visit of Miss Mary Bartholomew to her home in Santa Ana.

Miss Bartholomew recently entered the nurses' training school at Good Samaritan hospital, Los Angeles, and so the little group of friends of Miss Bartholomew and her mother, Mrs. R. M. Bartholomew, together presented her with a lovely table lamp during the tea-party. Several little individual gifts added to the happiness of the occasion, among them a pair of lovely bookends for her room.

Mrs. Tubbs was assisted at receiving the guests by her sub-deb daughter, Miss Lillian Mae Tubbs. At the pretty lace-spread tea table were seated Mrs. C. Mortimer Plum and Mrs. Brad Hellis, Mrs. Clarence Nisson, Mrs. K. H. Sutherland, Mrs. James W. Rice, Mrs. Carl Plumb, Mrs. Ada Bradford Hellis, the honoree, and the hostess' assistants.

A long narrow bowl of red anemones, candytuft and fluff white stock carried out the Valentine colors that were so appropriate to the date of the party.

Among those enjoying the afternoon were Mrs. R. M. Bartholomew, Miss Alice Bartholomew, Miss Louise Tubbs, Miss Gertrude Hellis, Miss Martha Plumb, Miss Jean Thieme, Mrs. Hugh Plumb, Mrs. Robert Alexander, Mrs. Felton Browning, Mrs. Brad Hellis, Mrs. Clarence Nisson, Mrs. K. H. Sutherland, Mrs. James W. Rice, Mrs. Carl Plumb, Mrs. Ada Bradford Hellis, the honoree, and the hostess' assistants.

INDIANA VISITOR IS PARTY HOSTESS

Mrs. Charles Rummel gave a return courtesy for the many which have been shown her during her Santa Ana visit when she entertained a group of friends Saturday evening in her residence at 702 South Van Ness.

The hostess, who, with her husband, came out in the fall from their home in South Bend, Ind., spread her table with linen and centered each with a red taper in a crystal holder. Spring flowers by her friends made pretty decorations through the room.

In the bridge games, which formed the diversion of the evening, Mrs. John Turton won the high prize; Mrs. F. A. Burkett, second, and Mrs. Osborne Holmes, low. Others sharing their hostess' hospitality were Mrs. Frank Armin, Mrs. Don C. Edwards, Mrs. W. A. Schmidt and Mrs. John J. Vernon.

MRS. OAKES HAS NEW YORK GUEST

Mrs. C. C. Oakes, 1825 North Ross street, has as her guest this month, Mrs. W. J. Hancock of New York, and recently honored her with an informal luncheon party at the Doris-Kathryn tea room.

Guests included Mrs. E. M. Shinn, Miss Evelyn Shinn, Mrs. Charles Peters, Miss Mary Oakes, Mrs. Hancock and Mrs. Oakes.

MARY STODDARD

Woman Might Not Be So Generous If She Were in Other Woman's Place

By MARY STODDARD

I wonder if little Sally, in love with a married man, has taken any action during this week that has brought her so much advice with respect to her problem. I am really very anxious to hear from her, despite the fact that I spoke so strongly in my advice to her. Today comes another letter for her to profit by. I think "Experienced" surely knows what she is talking about, and I'm sure she feels her course of action under similar circumstances has brought her happiness and wisdom.

SUNDAY RITES IN EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Wearing a lovely gown of pale blue velvet, with blue veil and cape and a corsage of camellias, orchids, and gardenias, Miss Frances M. Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Brown of 1234 Spruagon street, was a lovely bride Sunday afternoon when in 4 o'clock nuptials she was united in marriage with H. Rexford Brown of San Bernardino, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Folger of Orange.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Perry Austin of St. Luke's church in Long Beach, and Mrs. H. Cervantes of the same city, a close friend of the family, was the soloist.

Candles and flowers of the season formed a pretty background for the exchange of vows, and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

Immediately after the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Brown left for a honeymoon trip which will take them eventually to San Bernardino to establish their new home, the bridegroom being manager of the Kress store there. A graduate of Orange schools and of the University of California at Berkeley, he lived for many years in this country. The bride is a graduate of Santa Ana High school and Junior college.

Sentiment entered into the wedding in the bride's adherence to the time-honored tradition of bride's wearing "something old, something borrowed, and something blue." Her two pieces of jewelry worn with her bridal dress were a beautiful pin which had belonged to her great grandmother and a pearl pendant more than 100 years old, given to her by the bridegroom's mother. She carried a white prayerbook and white lace handkerchief as her "something borrowed."

BROTHER AND SISTER ARE PARTY HOSTS

After school on Friday, David and Audrey Porter, children of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Porter of 412 South Parton street, entertained a few of their friends at a Valentine party in their home.

Exchange of Valentines and playing of Valentine games preceded the serving of refreshments which carried out the red and white Valentine theme. Places of the young guests were laid at one table centered with a bowl of narcissus and appointed with Valentine plates, napkins and candy favors. Heart-shaped cookies iced in red were a happy feature of the dessert course.

The little guests included Virginia Lee Head, Betty Barbara Hulse, Ruby Beasley, Charles Hanson, Ronald and Rita Maier, John Mabe and Joan Bismar.

Here is her letter: Dear Miss Stoddard: Sally is a "cheat," and deep down in her heart she knows it. If she did not have a bit of feeling of guilt she would not be trying to justify herself by writing you.

"Grace A" who is 40 and the mother of a girl 15, wrote to gently admonish you because your advice to Sally in her "teens was too harsh. I am 40, too, and I wonder if Grace would be as tolerant if some lovable, warm-hearted girl" were jeopardizing her home and courting her husband and her daughter's father?

Buck up, Sally, and face facts. I'll wager if you had met "Jim" at a time and place where he need not have told you he was married, he wouldn't really love you as he should or he'd be free before he came to you. If by any chance he should ever be free to marry you, you'd likely some day find yourself in the place his present wife is now.

You can put him out of your life if you will. I know. When I was about your age I met a man and met him in a proper manner, too. But I did not meet his wife or know he had one. He was 10 years my senior, attractive, likeable and he, too, had "a wonderful boyish smile." I gave him my heart then and there.

Amazing as it seems, I went with him two years. He'd take me out two or three times a week. And in that time he'd won more than my heart.

Oh, yes, there was talk of marriage, but he said he had an aged mother and father to support and we'd have to wait until he made more money.

One day, like a bombshell, the shock came. His wife called on me. She told me she loved him, and their little body idolized him. She'd been waiting, thinking he'd break his divorce, even, but he didn't want one. She was surprised but believed me and was truly sorry when I told her I thought him single.

Did I just once? Indeed I did. I JUST ONCE, to tell him in no uncertain terms what I thought of him.

Oh, yes, I still loved him, and it was like tearing the very heart out of my body to let him go. But I knew it was the only way I could retain what little self-respect I had left.

I was young and could do much with my future. I'm married now with a 10-year-old girl. My husband knows and understands and never mentions it. There are not many men I realize who could be so tolerant.

A thief never deserves the respect of honest people. And as long as you see that man you are a thief as well as a cheat. I'm writing in the sole hope that I can help you, Sally, and save you from the heartbreak I know is inevitable.

HERMOSA PAST MATRONS

Hermosa Past Matrons will meet for a 12:30 luncheon at the Masonic temple on Thursday, with Mrs. A. E. Wallace, Mrs. George Ostermann, Mrs. Bock, and Mrs. Martha Whitson as hostesses. Those unable to attend are asked to call Mrs. H. T. Jones, phone 2826. Mrs. J. W. McCormack, program chairman, requests that all those who have part in the play to be presented that afternoon meet at the hall at 10:30 in the morning.

Professor In Address On Japan

Information on the recent political influences in Japan were brought to the Business and Professional Women's club of Santa Ana last night by Dr. Charles B. Fahs, professor at Pomona college, who studied in the Imperial university in Tokyo from 1934 to 1936, and traveled in Manchuria last summer.

Dr. Fahs' chief interest in his studies and travels was politics, and he made contacts with interesting people, thus securing an insight into the political movements and their background.

In his talk last evening he explained the beliefs of the two parties, both working for the Asia-for-Asians policy and for reforms within Japan, but differing over a thoroughgoing control of thought. The desired reforms he explained as government control of big business, land reforms, reform in the political system and a thoroughgoing control of thought.

During the business meeting, presided by Miss Lena Thomas, three visitors were introduced, Miss Maude Vezie of Denver, Colo., who is visiting her sister, Miss Ella Vezie, Miss Katherine Handy, director of Orange county branch of the State Relief, and Mrs. Margaret Wilson, a nurse, who has recently come here from Iowa.

Miss Thomas announced that Ontario club has sponsored the name of Dana Williams, district B and P. W. president, for second vice president of the state federation.

An invitation was read from Anaheim club, telling of a reciprocity dinner Thursday, Feb. 25, at 6:30 p. m., in the Anaheim Elks club, at which time Dr. Harvey Easton, professor of English at California Institute of Technology, will talk on "Japan and Japanese Prints." Miss Thomas urges all who can to attend. Carolyn Webb, state president, and Miss Williams, southern district host, will be guests.

NEW THRILL IN KVOE STORY

'Drums' Star Sees Vision Locale in Tonight's Mystery Episode

Author Vera Olsham introduces a new turn in the plot construction of "Drums" when she has Philip Lawrence actually find in real life one of the places he has seen in the visions induced by the eerie "Drums of Karma."

This interesting new development in the technique of the mystery adventure series, will be aired in the episode to be broadcast by KVOE and other stations of the Don Lee Broadcasting system from 6:45 to 7:00 o'clock tonight.

The scene of the episode is Lahore, India, as the Lawrence family is en route from Darjeeling to Kashmir in quest of a long-missing brother. All the usual favorites of the "Drums" series will be on hand.

THOUGHT TALK ON KVOE

Frances Furr, teacher of psychology and metaphysics, whose broadcast series "How to Achieve Happiness and Successful Living" is scheduled every Tuesday night at 8:15, KVOE, will have for her topic tonight "The Secret of All Demonstration-Identification with Your Good."

Mrs. Furr is well known throughout Southern California and is a frequent speaker before business and social organizations. On February 23 she will speak on "The Secret of All Demonstration-Identification with Your Good."

Her home is in Huntington Beach.

Modulations From KVOE

The first of two talks concerning employment for the hard of hearing and titled "Vocational Rehabilitation" will be made by Miss Ruth Bartlett, nationally-known instructor of lip reading, to be broadcast from KVOE tomorrow morning at 10:30. This will be the third of the new and interesting series of talks by Miss Bartlett.

Losses, direct and indirect, by strikers, employers, merchants and others who were affected by strikes will be discussed by members of the Orange county junior public forum from Tustin in their broadcast tomorrow morning at 11:15. Those to take part include Robert Buchheim, George Osterman, Sam Francis and Horace Stevens.

The gifted young baritone, Frank Tavaglione, will be especially featured in "The Toreador Song" from Bizet's "Carmen" during the broadcast of the "Song Recital" program from KVOE tomorrow afternoon at 3:45. Tavaglione also will be heard in "La Pejura" by De Tejada, Del Riego's "Homage" and "Nocturne" by Curran.

SOUTHWEST SECTION

The Southwest section of the Ladies' Aid of the First Presbyterian church will meet Thursday at two o'clock with Mrs. Fanny Nau, 206 South Birch street. There will be a surprise program.

Home Service These Tricks Make Housework Easier

Be clever about the little jobs that eat up your time. Chill your candles several hours so they burn slowly, won't drip. If wax does get on the cloth, don't rub to get rid of it. Scrape, place blotter under and over the spot, and press with a hot iron. Avoid tight-shoe trouble. Lay a hot, wet cloth over the pinching parts while the shoes are on your feet. The leather expands, you walk with ease.

Does Junior's chewing gum stick to clothes? Soften with egg white the gum you can't scrape off, launder as usual. Do dingy neckties pile up? Put them into a jar half full of carbon tetrachloride. Cover and shake. Rinse in clean carbon tetrachloride. Dry outdoors.

Our 32-page booklet gives many more short cuts for housework, clothes-care. Tips on ways to cut expenses; simple remedies, first aid.

Send 10 cents for your copy of 266 Household Hints to The Journal, Pattern Department, 17 East Fifth street, Santa Ana, Calif. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

AFTER THIN MAN AT WALKER'S

With William Powell and Myrna Loy reunited as co-stars, "After the Thin Man," comes to Walker's theater Wednesday topping a double bill that also features a farce, "Three Men on a Horse." The bill shows for four days.

"After the Thin Man" tells of further experiences of Detective Nick Charles and his wife. This time they are in San Francisco, and much against his will the detective is persuaded to solve a disappearance and two murders which involve relatives of his wife.

With Powell and Miss Loy in the cast are James Stewart, who is unmasked as the slayer; Ellsland, Joseph Calleia, Jessie Ralph and others.

Frank McHugh and Joan Blondell are the stars of "Three Men on a Horse," which tells the adventures of a greeting card writer who has an uncanny gift for picking winners of horse races. He is "kidnaped" by three small-time gamblers who persuade him to pick race winners for them for a percentage of the winnings. Finally he and the gamblers clean up, and he is allowed to go back to his job and his wife.

Others in the cast include Guy Kibbe, Carol Hughes, Allen Jenkins, Sam Levene, Teddy Hart and Edgar Kennedy.

A cartoon, "Two Little Pups" and a newsreel conclude the bill.

City Council Notes

The city council last night: Named Councilman Plummer Bruno to act as mayor pro tem in the absence of Mayor Fred C. Rowland.

Received an application from the Shannon Funeral home, now located at Orange, to establish a new mortuary on the southwest corner of Seventeenth and Broadway.

Passed a motion to permit City Clerk Ed Vegeley to go out of the state for two weeks starting Feb. 11.

Granted taxi driver's permits to Carl L. Beltz and Homer Hunt.

Gave permission to the Santa Ana Neon Sign company to erect a sign for P. B. Lee at 2439 South Main street.

Decided to investigate a complaint from property owners along Santa Ana boulevard on flood conditions and to possibly cooperate in flood control program for the area.

Held a formal hearing on application of Barbison and Wilson to operate an automobile business at 310 East Fifth street and then granted the permit when no objections were made.

Authorized investigation of an application to establish a tabernacle on South Broadway in about a month.

Granted Evans Jones permission to move the Santa Ana Auto plant across the street from its present location on North Main street.

Set March 15 as the day for the De Molay youths to take over the city government.

WOMEN VOTERS WILL HEAR SEN. WESTOVER

So interesting is the program planned at Thursday's session of the League of Women Voters that its members have extended a luncheon courtesy to anyone who is eager to discuss pending legislation. The meeting will be held at twelve-thirty at the Doris Kathryn tea room.

Among the speakers who will follow Senator Harry Westover will be Mrs. Golden Weston, Mrs. Dorothy Weston, Mrs. Orr K. Heine and Mrs. J. D. Campbell. Each will discuss some phase of law-making that is in the public eye.

FAMILY HONORS DORAL KINGREY

St. Valentine and a birthday anniversary shared honors at a family dinner party on Sunday at the T. P. Kingrey home on Beverly Place, where relatives gathered to honor the birthday of Doral Kingrey, son of the home.

A birthday cake, flanked on either side by tall red tapers, formed the centerpiece, and red and white nut cups and place cards marked places for Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Leh and children, Barbara and Margaret, of Beverly Hills, and Mr. Leh's sister, Mrs. E. U. Leh of Oakland; Mrs. Emma Axton of Santa Ana, and Mr. and Mrs. Kingrey and two sons, Doral and Kenneth.

SYCAMORE P. N. G.'S Sycamore Past Noble Grands are to meet promptly at 12:30 o'clock Thursday at the home of Mrs. Stella Henderson, 210 Hobart street. Co-hostesses with Mrs. Henderson will be Mrs. Bessie Stovall and Mrs. Effie Means.

Townsend News, Views

By WALTER R. ROBB

(Opinions and comment expressed in this column are not necessarily those of The Journal—Editor's note.)

A post card addressed to the writer from W. A. Zimmerman, who has been at Tennant, Calif. since before Christmas, explains why he has not communicated for sometime with Santa Ana club No. 5, of which he is president.

Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman went to Tennant to spend the holidays with their daughter and family. He writes that they have been quarantined for the last 30 days with a small grandson who was attacked with scarlet fever and complications of so serious a nature that for a time two and three trained nurses also two specialists were required. For several days the child's life was despaired of but he is now on the way to complete recovery, and the quarantine has been lifted.

Zimmerman asked to be remembered to club No. 5 membership and to broadcast word that he and Mrs. Zimmerman expect to leave in a few days for Santa Ana, coming via Oakland and San Francisco.

The writer is in receipt from Mrs. K. C. Burdick, president of Costa Mesa club No. 3, of the following communication: "Townsend club No. 3 will meet in the music room of the elementary school Tuesday evening Feb. 16 at 7:30 o'clock. The election of officers, postponed because of sickness and bad weather, will be held, followed by a program. Mrs. H. F. Parsons will give a reading entitled 'When Aunt Hetty Gets Her $200.' All members and friends are urged to attend."

Santa Ana club No. 6 will meet tonight at 7:30 in the community building of the First Christian church, corner of West Sixth and Broadway. The membership and friends are cordially invited to be present.

Stanton Townsend club is meeting at 7:30 this evening in the Savannah school on Ball road. Mrs. Shirley Cook, president-elect, will preside. Other executive officers of the club who will be present are Mrs. Gladys Nordstrom, vice president; Herbert Hanneman, secretary, and J. F. Robinson, treasurer. At tonight's meeting the chairman of each of the standing committees will be appointed.

Columbus Vinson, 71, staunch Townsendite member of Santa Ana club No. 3 and familiar figure at all Townsend meetings where it was possible for him to attend, passed away at his home at 1042 West Pine street, Sunday. He is survived by five sons of whom Fred J. Vinson, residing in Santa Ana, is one. A sister of Muncie, Ind., also survives. The sympathy of the Townsendites go out to the sorrowing relatives.

Next Saturday afternoon in Townsend theater at 215 East Fourth street there will be another Townsend mass meeting. Roy Webb, former district organizer of the 19th district will be the featured speaker. This column has commented before on the activities of Webb in the eastern portion of the United States and of his ability to enlighten his hearers concerning the Townsend activities there. Watch this column for the exact hour of the meeting and other particulars which will be given later in the week. At 7:30 that evening Arthur L. Johnson of Los Angeles will speak. Plan to come to Santa Ana next Saturday and take in both of these meetings.

John P. Gallagher writes in Sunday's Los Angeles Examiner that "When the Old-Age Pension act went into effect in Missouri on Aug. 27, 1935, after an overwhelming state-wide vote, it was restricted Indians own 2,726,346 of the 44,000,000 acres in Oklahoma. Their land may not be sold, leased or given away without the sanction of the government.

ANNOUNCES CAR SALES AWARDS

Concurrent with a new program to systematize and improve the reconditioning of used cars sold by its dealers, Cadillac-La Salle announced this week, through Claude Knox, local Cadillac, La Salle and Oldsmobile dealer, the award of certificates to 1458 dealer-service men, who during 1936 became eligible for the Cadillac Certified Craftsman's league. The list includes 1263 who passed the league's monthly tests for the second consecutive year. A passing mark of 85 per cent is required of league members in examinations.

"We want the public to be justified in placing the same confidence in us when they purchase a Cadillac standard used car as when purchasing a new car," said Claude Knox. "We are making every preparation to give the used car buyer new car confidence."

Knox said this was just part of the surprise planned for the automobile buyers of this city. Opportunities to examine these cars and drive them will be a part of this plan.

COMUS DANCE TO BE THURSDAY

Comus club's monthly dance will be held this Thursday at the Orange American Legion hall, with dancing from nine-thirty to twelve-thirty.

Hosts and hostesses will be Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ragan, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stauffer, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Welsh, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Daniger.

ANGELENOS DINE HERE

Lairds, Inc., of Los Angeles, had dinner at Danigers Monday evening, about 60 guests gathering for the event at which Dean Stabler of U. S. C. was the guest speaker.

estimated that about 20,000 persons would qualify immediately. Since Aug. 1935, the estimated 20,000 eligible pensioners has grown to almost 100,000. The writer quotes this as an evidence that there is great need of the Townsend plan pension becoming the law of the land. The tax lead resulting from payment of pensions out of funds collected in other ways than by the Townsend plan transaction tax will become a great burden to the tax paying public, whereas the same number of people receiving pensions of large amounts as advocated by the Townsend movement will, by their large spending, so accelerate business profits and general prosperity as to make the 2 per cent transaction tax cost negligible in comparison to the benefits enjoyed.

Restricted Indians own 2,726,346 of the 44,000,000 acres in Oklahoma. Their land may not be sold, leased or given away without the sanction of the government.

Auto Executive

CLAUDE KNOX

Knox announced that Hal Price and Ray Chapman, salesmen in his organization, have won the salesmaker's award of General Motors, which is won by exceeding quotas for 12 consecutive months. Price and Chapman today attended a luncheon honoring salesmakers at the Oakmont Country club in Glendale. They received cash awards and emblems.

Returned by request of theatergoers, "Mark of the Vampire" will open a two-day engagement tomorrow at the State theater. On the same bill will be "Isle of Fury," showing for the first time in Santa Ana.

"Mark of the Vampire" stars Lionel Barrymore and Bela Lugosi, and presents a detective mystery amid a weird group of vampire cultists in Europe. Barrymore portrays a strange old professor who delves into the mysteries of vampire practices, and who works with Lionel Atwill, as a detective, in solving murders by the cult.

Others in the cast include Elizabeth Allen, Jean Hersholt, Henry Wadsworth, Donald Meek, Jessie Ralph and Ivan Simpson.

Humphrey Bogart is the star of "Isle of Fury," which tells the story of a fugitive from justice who has established a profitable pearl fishing business on a South Pacific island, and who is forced to battle for his beautiful bride against a polished man of the world whom he has rescued from a shipwreck and brought into his home as a friend.

With Bogart in the cast are Donald Woods, Margaret Lindsay, Paul Graetz, Gordon Hart and E. E. Clive.

Juggling the Supreme Court

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT—with his philanthropic outlook—no doubt advances his proposal to juggle the supreme court and insists on speedy action in the best of faith. He is impatient for more reform and sees that the court, with its majority of conservatives, is delaying things.

But isn't it wise for congress and the American people to think over the President's suggested court shakeup cautiously and carefully?

There is no need for rushing matters. No emergency exists.

Let's turn the X-ray on Mr. Roosevelt's plan.

Outwardly it seems to be a well-conceived measure to retire supernumerary judges and replace them by younger men in the interests of speeding up legal processes.

But inwardly it is an adroit scheme to get control of the supreme court by appointing a majority of New Deal judges so that New Deal legislation can be held constitutional—no matter how extreme it may be.

And its inner purpose, if accomplished, will have the practical effect of making any bill that a partisan congress chooses to pass the supreme law of the land.

It may be that the American people want this situation to come about; so that the ruling party will always be entirely free to do as it pleases—regardless whether this party be Democratic, Republican or whatnot.

But if that occurs—and the Roosevelt plan would confirm a precedent—the American government would lose much of the stability and equilibrium which has characterized it in the past.

It would become subject to violent fluctuations of political opinion periodically; like our economic structure is susceptible to alternating eras of prosperity and depression.

And such an unsettled state would be as bad for our government as it has been for business and the workers.

We think a lot of President Roosevelt; he helped save the country when things were going to smash.

But we don't think enough of him—or of any other president who has lived or who will come—to approve a plan that indirectly will make the constitution mere clay in his hands.

Any changes in the fundamental way of doing things should be made openly and directly by the people through amendment. This is their privilege and their right.

If they surrender it to any partisan administration, they will be the losers when this right is abused.

That New York man who shot himself with a .22-caliber rifle, only to have the bullet bounce off his skull, should apply for a job on the Republican national committee.

The Upward Trail

IT'S interesting to glance back now and then at old newspaper headlines. Take February, 1933, for instance: "Roosevelt Shot at by Assassin; Cermak Wounded." "Relief Problem Grows."

Plenty of other gloomy headlines. Building activity was dead. Banks were crashing; two governors had been forced to declare bank holidays; the whole country's financial structure was threatened. With a new president about to take office, could the nation meet the crisis ahead?

City and county governments couldn't sell their relief bonds to take care of the unemployed.

The nation was going through dark days. What a different story the headlines tell in February, 1937!

"Auto Strike Peace Signed." "Maritime Strike Is Ended."

National recovery has already been under way long enough to be accepted almost as a matter of course. These two happy events—the ending of the waterfront and automobile strikes—give promise that the headlines of the coming years will continue to tell a story of increasing recovery and genuine prosperity—of new homes being financed and built, of advancing business and industrial activity, and of increased wages and more jobs in private industry.

What kind of headlines are we going to be reading in February 1941?

Fashion writer says that women's hats next season will be even more unusual than they are this. Sometimes we feel like taking poison.

Nature's Great Water-Saver

EVERY streambed in the county has carried its share of valuable rainwater into the salty ocean this season. But the run-off in the mountain area—where storms have been heaviest—has been less in proportion than in many other places.

That's because Orange county hillsides were well covered with vegetation which holds back the water and causes it to percolate underground, as State Forester Joe Scherman points out.

A watershed which has been protected from fire and other destructive forces often does a better job of water conservation than a man-made reservoir.

Classified ad says a helicon player is wanted. There are lots of folks who can play the first syllable.

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

Age fails to slow the dancing feet of Bill Robinson. Edging the 60's he has been Broadway's crack attraction of the winter. He filled the old Palais Royale corner, a constant real estate headache, since the days when Paul Whiteman set the Apian Way ago.

Robinson also topped the salary of cafe performers by receiving $3,000 a week. With tip-top success he is still the carefree, go lightly "bojangles" of Harlem. The Black Belt's mayor in cocked derby and the most generous charity performer the stage has turned out.

He has the levee darkey's strut and flair for rainbow raiment. Nothing delights him like a noisy shirt, horse blanket suit or brilliant tie and he averages a quart of ice cream daily. A non-boozier, he likes to roll the bones for small stakes.

Although the biggest earner of his race, most of it trickles away. He has a private charity list that includes many old time performers and boyhood side kicks in Virginia.

Almost every American who visits Mussolini in Rome has the same story to tell of the entrance of Il Duce's presence. His office is a room hung with armor, and in size suggests the waiting room of Grand Central. There is a long walk from the doorway to his desk. And always as the visitor walks toward him Mussolini paces to and fro, arms folded behind in Napoleonic meditation as though completely absorbed. Then suddenly he looks up with an illuminating smile. Thus the visitor is completely awed before being thrilled by his welcome.

David Belasco's reputation of a visitor was also an impressive jet of drama. When the visitor was ushered in the producer was invariably seated at his desk in a photographic pose of detachment, tugging gently at a wisp of silver forelock. While incense burned in the offering. It apparently took some time and a struggle for him to flash back from the world of dreaming to one of reality. For the first moment or so he talked in a far-away voice. Nobody could help but feel tremendously impressed and relatively unimportant—which was the big idea. Especially for actors hunting high salaried jobs.

Reeves Smith the great London hotel man and hero of Arnold Bennett's "Imperial Hotel," also has a disconcerting method of receiving strangers, especially those in quest of a job. He shakes hands but never a word, further than to say "Tell me about yourself." If the visitor gabs too much, and he usually does under such a tantalizing smile, the hotel man pushes a button signaling a secretary to show the visitor out, and that's that. But if at the conclusion the applicant has made a good impression he announces "You will hear from me," and that means a job.

The most twittry moments many experience is in presence of a prospective boss. It usually means so much. And we strain for poise and eloquence and thus frequently appear off-center. The modern employer understands that and is usually considerate, for he realizes that the awkward, confused and inarticulate candidate may prove to be an employee of exceptional worth when he has gained equilibrium. Carnegie liked men who were visibly nervous on a new job.

I was in Bob Davis' magazine office one day when a bright, good-looking girl sought a post in the old Munsey organization. Her costume had a refined but down-at-the-heel look. Yet she made an impressive talk and got the job. Then in a sudden let-down said, "Now, you must excuse my little cry before I go tell my mother, who is waiting in the reception hall outside." And she had her little cry and went out—head high!

After one of my own too long "at liberty" interludes I tackled a managing editor in Chicago for a berth. He was the sabre-tongued ogre of the fiction newspaper tales and, eyeing me coldly, thundered: "What makes you think you are a newspaperman?" And that question every now and then still guiltily assails me. (Copyright 1937)

There is a growing belief that our universities will gain rather than lose by adopting a less costly and pretentious scale of doing things.—Frederick P. Keppel, president, Carnegie Corporation.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON.—One development in connection with the recent air crashes which has been intriguing air officials is the way Amelia Earhart has gone psychic.

America's foremost woman aviator has now become the number one seeress of the air. She believes she has developed a contact with the occult world by which she knows what happens in air crashes.

Her latest prediction is that on May 10 she will make a startling discovery regarding the crash of the Western Air Express plane lost over the Wasatch mountains on Dec. 15 between Salt Lake City and Los Angeles, and not yet located.

Officials at first were inclined to laugh at Miss Earhart's psychic messages. But her accuracy now has them mystified. When a United Air Lines plane was lost just outside of Burbank, Calif., on Dec. 27, Miss Earhart called the United Air Lines office and told them to look on a hill near Saugus, a little town north of Burbank.

There the wreckage was found. Again when the Western Air Express plane carrying Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson crashed on Jan. 12, Miss Earhart reported the plane to be near Newhall, 15 miles north of Burbank, where it was found.

In the earlier crash of the Western Air Express in Utah, Miss Earhart had a vision to the effect that the bodies of the dead had been robbed by a trapper. Two days later a trapper near Salt Lake City reported finding the wreckage, but then suddenly disappeared without locating the plane.

This is the unground plane regarding which Miss Earhart expects to make a startling discovery on May 10.

HASTY EXIT

The next time Maj. Gen. Edward M. Markham, chief of army engineers, feels moved to make a speech, he will first make sure he is in a safe and dry hall.

Markham learned this lesson on a recent trip to the flood zone. Accompanied by Harry Hopkins, Markham arrived early at an Arkansas refugee camp where they were to confer with Gov. Carl E. Bailey.

While waiting for Bailey, Markham seized the chance to give a "pep" talk to the flooded-out residents. He urged them not to get panicky, to keep cool, and assured them that "everything is going to be all right."

In the middle of Markham's cheery sermon, a refugee interrupted him with "General, if you want to get out of this area you better leave right away. The water's already a foot high over the only road out!"

About-facing, double-quick, Markham and Hopkins leaped into their car and beat a hasty, if unmilitary, retreat—leaving the speech unfinished.

OIL MAGNATES

A group of old-line A. F. of L. leaders are planning to try their hand at being oil magnates.

They are reorganizing an oil company and will soon ask permission of the securities and exchange commission to float a sizeable bond issue.

Promoter and financial wizard behind the plan is Col. Robert G. Stewart, ousted as president of the Indiana Standard Oil Company when John D. Rockefeller, jr., disapproved of Stewart's Teapot Dome notoriety.

It is planned to operate the new company on union labor principles. A big-name laborite will probably head the firm, and its product will bear the union label. The interested union leaders describe the venture as a "cooperative effort between business and labor."

STANDING ROOM ONLY

A generous and publicity-loving theatrical man has a solution all worked out for the seating of the supreme court if President Roosevelt does enlarge the tribunal.

He is the owner of a new movie theater opening here, and of it he says:

"The theater seats 600 and we intend to donate it to the supreme court, which will shortly require a larger seating capacity than that furnished by its recently acquired quarters."

THEATER FLOOD RELIEF

Harry Hopkins' WPA boys are sending a special New York stage show to entertain the Mississippi flood victims.

Providing food and blankets is only part of the job. Victims also need something to forget their troubles.

So a group of specially built trucks will leave the WPA theater project in New York this week, bound for the flood circuit. First stand will be Memphis, on the night of February 22, Washington's birthday.

When the trucks arrive at the Memphis fair grounds, they will unfold their portable stage, string up drapes, lights, and loud speakers, prepare to entertain the 10,000 flood victims camped there.

In this case, the management will have no trouble filling the house. They play in the open air, to any and all who can get within hearing distance. The Memphis crowd will be too great for one performance, and WPA's cast of 40 actors will stage a repeat performance before moving on to the next stand.

Many of the actors in the company are old-timers who have played Memphis and Cairo and Louisville when the "road" was thriving, and when the name for variety was vaudeville. That was before the depression drove them to the relief rolls, and before the flood brought this unique revival of the road.

JUDGE STUMP

Dear Judge: Has anyone ever thought to ask a parrot anything except, "Polly want a cracker?"

D. F. P. Yes, but the results were unfortunate. Squire Zeke Fluffebum, my neighbor, once asked his parrot, "How'd you like some bird seed, Pauline?" The parrot collapsed, and died from the shock. STUMP.

SAFE DRIVING

To the Editor: I read that letter writer by Aphraim Hirschowsky in your paper and I blame you for printing such a letter that may cause hardships.

The idea of wanting to take a driver's license away from everyone over 65 years! I bet he never saw one old person cause a wreck because old people drive more carefully than anyone else. It is always old people that are getting killed, even if they are walking and don't own a car.

Everyone knows it is the young smart Alecks and drunks who cause the wrecks and killings. You can't stop that by taking licenses away from people over 65. All we have to do to stop these killings is to take all licenses and cars away from anyone who drinks and who drives over 50 miles an hour. I think in a very short time you would see a difference. Of course, some accidents can't be helped, but most can be. Just as long as judges turn them loose with a suspended sentence or a little fine, you can expect the killings to go on.

Then again he wants all of our permanent licenses taken away from us. Why should they take a permanent license away when it says right on it that it is good until revoked, and if a person is a good enough driver to have one for 30 years or more, why take it away?

Another thing, why make us pay out insurance? The law is that passengers ride at their own risk and can't sue. So why make it any harder on the poor. We have all the taxes we can stand now.

We don't need any more drastic licenses, just careful driving, and take the licenses away from all drinkers.

He wanted to hear answers to his letter, so please print this.

Howdy, folks! It is only a question of time until a Pedestrian's Code is enacted providing that—

1. Pedestrians must register at the beginning of each year and pay a license fee of $5 for the privilege of living.

2. Each pedestrian before receiving a license to walk upon the streets must demonstrate before an examining board his skill in dodging, leaping, crawling and exclaiming himself from machinery.

3. In dodging automobiles a pedestrian shall not run more than nine miles per hour.

4. Pedestrians will be held responsible for all damage done to automobiles or their occupants by collision with such pedestrians.

One Man's Opinion

By R. F. PAINE

That well-known married pair—capital and labor, are sparring again. It's too early for the neighbors to judge which one will wind up with a black eye.

They do say that labor has been a good provider, that he's worked hard, complained little, and has brought home his pay-check regularly every Saturday night.

There's a hint, too, that capital hasn't been quite so careful as he might have been with the family's cash, that she's spent quite a bit on frills and fripperies, bridge parties and the like, at times when labor had a patch on his pants and pretty badly needed a new pair of shoes.

They've been married a long time, capital and labor have. Capital's folks lived up on the hill and she was naturally inclined to be snooty. Labor came from a modest home down by the tracks; never had much and never expected much—even from marriage.

They've had children, capital and labor have. Most of them started wearing white collars pretty early in life. Some of them are married now, and all the married ones live up on the hill where capital's kinfolks live. Some of them, the neighbors say, won't even speak to their old man.

Up to now the spats of this old married couple have been about things that didn't seem to matter much. They patched up their quarrels in quite a hurry and went along. Sometimes capital would scratch labor up pretty bad, and once in a while labor would hang a shiner on her that kept her away from the bridge club for a couple of Thursdays.

This time it looks a little more serious. The house they built has always been in capital's name. As a bride she insisted that she'd hold full title to whatever community property they acquired.

Just a little while back labor told a neighbor on the bus that he'd be dommed if he was going to be made to keep his mouth shut in his own house any more. The neighbor's wife heard capital say that it was her very own house, in fact, and that that gas-house husband of hers would shut up and like it.

Everybody says that labor has been looking and feeling better lately than for years. Maybe this time it's his turn.

Skinny Skribbles

Around and About Town

With C. F. (SKINNY) SKIRVIN

A collated appreciation of Abraham Lincoln appearing in El Don by Jack Gardner, cartoonist, and Marvin Hinton, editorialist, is reassuring as to our national thought, coming as it does from the youth side. I'm not so disturbed about the future of our country when by lines and shades the artist can depict the sympathy and humility of Lincoln, and the editorial writer express a sympathetic viewpoint for the man whose sorrow seemed to follow him from the cradle to the grave, but through it all held steadfastly to a purpose of human devotion, as regnant today and when it was being bestowed. Jack throws into his cartoon a little of the Ripley when he says there are 57 cities and 22 counties in the United States named Lincoln.

And the skeptic who said we never would have a flood building a boat.

Observed: Mason Rouse with several other figures who figure—namely, auditors, who are discussing internal revenue and social security matters, in which I have only a remote interest. On the social security side the law can't catch me, and on the internal side I have passed from affluence to an obsolescence, so far as the government is concerned. But when I observed Manson and his cohorts in serious mood I knew it was a question of how much you owed the government and when you had to pay it. But let me say this for their side: If you owe the government you have been making money, and if you do not owe the government, your liability has not reached the profit stage, and who in the 'I wants to operate a business of that kind?

Well, we do have weather in Southern California, and other parts. We have had frost, floods and wind. If it's variety you want, don't look farther. Locate here and pick out the kind of weather you prefer. The other kind will arrive whether you pick it or not.

And then there is the fellow who turns the corners on two wheels, lifts his eyes up to a perpendicular position, and disturbs your nervous system to such an extent that you devoutly wish he'd get killed before he made the next turn. If some one has to be killed you just as soon wish he would be the subject of the tragedy. Those curbs cutters may have a sense of motor economy, but the safety and comfort of the pedestrian doesn't mean any more to them than a war loan to a foreign nation.

"We shall meet but we shall miss him." That's because he has the mumps. Vocal contribution by Jack Bascomb's club members.

My ranch friends around Anaheim and Olive, looking at the rising water in the Santa Ana river, have come to the conclusion that about 20 inches of water so far this season is just about all that section can stand, and the fear of a dry season is now thoroughly allied. They favor a breathing spell, with some sunshine thrown in.

Been a little uneasy about my friend Jim Fraughar. Jim was raised on the Iowa prairies. Sometimes swollen streams in the Hawkeye state may have started him to roll in his eyes, but with a flood unleashed on him on one side and the Pacific ocean on another I've been wondering if he is uneasy or cares a whit. "Whit" has the same number of letters as the other word I didn't use, Jim lives in Huntington Beach.

The banner across the street reading "Lucky Dollar Day" should be changed, according to Frank Orr, to "Leaky Dollar Day."

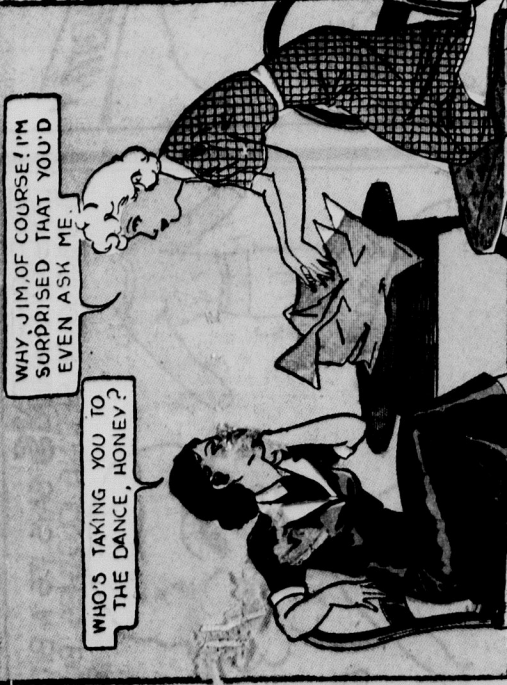

With our proximity to water one would think we had enough of it, but the elements have contributed a surplus. Now if the elements will only wait a few weeks until we can absorb the excess maybe we can say like the fellow with his foot on the rail, "Let's have another."

I do not know that Mina Shafer has had the flu, but I'm suspicious because she sends me a poem so accurately descriptive of the symptoms she must have passed that way at least once, and I am sure that she will agree it's enough. If you have had the flu you will appreciate the poem, and if you have not had the flu, well, you just can't appreciate the flu. But its symptoms, according to Flora Barrie, who evidently has been a victim, are something like this:

Say, did you ever have the flu. And feel disgusted, cross and blue? And all around and sigh and moan. Then jar your head off with a sneeze? Don't want to laugh, don't want to sing. Just will not do a blessed thing. But grunt and rub on saline and dope And all around and sigh and moan. It causes me such awful woe I cannot breathe, I cannot blow. I must be quiet, I must rest. Or have pneumonia in my chest. Also I must be perfectly polite. While taking gobs of castor oil. But all things end, and soon, I am sure. That countless remedies will cure.
